The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

SUCCESS IN EGYPT

British forces were reported today to have blown Italian headquarters in the Egyptian campaign into the air while in the United Kingdom itself there was a comparative lull in fighting.

German planes streaked across Britain by ones and twos last night and today's mass raids were broken up and chased away before they could do major damage. When it was launched the barrage was said to be capable of flying at an altitude of 20,000 feet.

Reuter's News Agency told Britons that their forces in Egypt had blown Sidi Barrani into the sky, leaving it mined when they retreated a few days ago before an Italian advance with numerically superior forces. British troops previously had sallied and blasted the 12 ancient Roman wells in the desert village.

ENRAGED

All Britain was enraged today at news that an evacuee ship had been torpedoed without warning by a German submarine with the loss of 293 lives, including those of 87 children. The vessel, unnamed in the official account of the tragedy, was sunk 600 miles from land while en route to Canada.

Many of the women and children died of exposure in lifeboats and rafts as they floundered in the wind-tossed sea. The children, keeping up their courage and that of their elders, sang "Roll out the Barrel," after hearing the skipper of their ship shout: "Look after yourselves" as the vessel went down under him.

1,000,000 BUNKERS

In the midst of the national wrath the government coolly prepared for a winter of bombing, laying plans to put 1,000,000 bunks in London's air raid shelters and issue millions of sets of ear plugs to block out the din of bombing and anti-aircraft fire.

Part of the German plan of constant air raiding is to disrupt industrial effort, rob the common people of their sleep, make them so weary they cannot work.

Britain's common man, however, is a stubborn fellow and Britain's ruling brains are resourceful. Every offence can be countered and the war of noise and nerves can be countered by rest.

Gaulle Prevents Coup at Dakar

LONDON (CP)—General Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Frenchmen continuing the war against Germany, arrived at Dakar, French West Africa, with a Free French force this morning. The Ministry of Information announced tonight.

The Free French force, accompanied by a British force, met resistance, "but the situation is not as yet fully clear," a ministry statement said.

The expedition set out following reports that the Germans were making persistent efforts to bring Dakar under their control, evidence of which was seen in the recent movement of French warships from Toulon to Dakar, the statement added.

FRENCHMAN'S ORDER?

VICHY, France (AP)—Officials here claimed tonight that British warships began firing on Dakar, French West Africa port, today, after Gen. de Gaulle had given the order from aboard the British flagship.

The Petain-Laval cabinet was said to have decided to "reply to force with force."

It was stated here yesterday that six French warships—three cruisers and three destroyers—which recently arrived at Dakar conveying merchant ships, had been prevented by British warships from leaving.

The firing began at 2:15 p.m. (5:15 a.m. P.S.T.), after Pierre Boisson, Governor-General of French West Africa, had refused Gen. de Gaulle's order to surrender the colony, an announcement here said.

"The extent of casualties and damage is not yet known," it added.

NO DECLARATION

Although the French cabinet decided that France would reply to the action, Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin specified the British action was not a casus belli (cause for war) and declared France would not declare war on Britain.

"Wounded as she may be, France still is capable of defending herself and replying blow for blow," he said.

Baudouin, who read the announcement to the press, characterized the incident as "exceeding by far the Mers-el-Kebir aggression" of July 3 when Britain's Mediterranean fleet went into that Algerian port and smashed a fleet which included some of France's largest fighting ships.

He claimed the action at Dakar "is not a question of simple ships which might be taken by the Germans or Italians, but a British desire for French property."

King George Speaks

New Empire Awards For Gallantry in War

LONDON (AP)—Following is the text of the King's broadcast to his people today:

It is just over a year now since the war began. The British people entered it with open eyes, recognizing how formidable were the forces against them, but confident in the justice of their cause.

Much has happened since September, 1939. Great nations have fallen. The battle, which was at that time so far away that we could only hear its distant rumblings, is now at our very doors. The armies of invasion are massed across the Channel, only 20 miles from our shores. The air fleets of the enemy launch their attack, day and night, against our cities. We stand in the front line, to champion those liberties and traditions that are our heritage.

As we brace ourselves for the battle, there is much to encourage us. We have with us brave contingents from the forces of our Allies. We have behind us the good will of all who love freedom. Our friends in the Americas have shown us this in many ways, not least by their gifts for the relief of suffering in this war.

Empire Unity At Its Highest

Nearer home, in the British Commonwealth of Nations itself, the struggle of the mother country has been made the struggle of the whole family. From every part of it, men and material are coming in increasing flow and there is an eagerness to share in the sacrifices which will bring us victory.

In this Battle for Britain, London, the mighty capital of the Empire, occupies the forefront. Others of our cities are being subjected to the barbarous attacks of the enemy. Our sympathy goes out to them all. But it is London that is for the time being bearing the brunt of the enemy's spites.

I am speaking to you now from Buckingham Palace with its honorable scars, to Londoners' list of all, though of course my words apply equally to all the British cities, towns and hamlets, who are enduring the same dangers.

The Queen and I have seen many of the places here which have been most heavily bombed and many of the people who have suffered and are suffering most. Our hearts are with them tonight. Their courage and cheerfulness, their faith in their country's cause and final victory are an inspiration to the rest of us to persevere.

Air Raid Workers Given Praise

To the men and women who carry on the work of air raid precautions services I should like to say a special word of gratitude. The devotion of these civil workers, firemen, salvage men and many others in the face of grave and constant danger has won a new renown for the British name. These men and women are worthy partners of our armed forces.

Final Bulletins

22 Planes Down

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight that 11 German planes had been shot down in today's fighting over Britain and the same number of British planes had been lost, but added that the pilots of seven of the British fighters were safe.

Ribbentrop in Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The German foreign minister, Ribbentrop, returned tonight from his Rome conference with Mussolini and went immediately to make a personal report to Hitler.

Indo-China Fight

HANOI, French Indo-China (AP)—Japanese forces resumed an attack on French positions near Langson, about 12 miles within French Indo-China, late today, informed sources reported, after Japanese warplanes had bombed the airfield there.

Invasion Barometer

forces and our police, of the navy, of the army and the home guard, alert and eager to repel any invader, and of the air force, whose exploits are the wonder of the world.

Tonight indeed we are a nation on guard and in line. Each task, each bit of duty done, however simple and domestic it may be, is part of our war work. It takes rank with the sailor's duty, the soldier's and the airman's duty. The men and women in the factories or on the railways who work on regardless of danger, though the sirens have sounded, maintaining life and keeping the fighting line well supplied with weapons, earn their place among the heroes of this war.

No less honor is due to all those, who night after night uncomplainingly endure discomfort, hardship and peril in their homes and shelters.

New George Cross Ranks Next to V.C.

Many and glorious are the deeds of gallantry done during these perilous and famous days. In order that they should be worthily and promptly recognized I have decided to create at once a new mark of honor for men and women in all ranks of civilian life. I propose to give my name to this new distinction, which will consist of the George Cross, ranking next to the Victoria Cross, and the George Medal, for wider distribution.

As we look around us we see on every side that in the hour of her trial the mother city of the British Commonwealth is proving herself to be built as a city that is at unity with itself. It is not the walls that make the city, but the people who live within them. The walls of London may be battered, but the spirit of the Londoner stands resolute and undiminished.

As in London, so throughout British buildings rich in beauty and historic interest may be wondrously attacked. Humbler houses, no less dear and familiar, may be destroyed. But "there'll always be an England" to stand before the world as the symbol and citadel of freedom, and to be our dear home.

Voices Sympathy With Bereaved

And here I would like to tell the sorrowing parents how deeply we grieve for them in the loss of their young ones in the ship torpedoed without warning in mid-Atlantic. Surely the world could have no clearer proof of the wickedness against which we fight than this foul deed.

We live in grim times, and it may be that the future will be grimmer yet. Winter lies before us, cold and dark. But let us be of good cheer. After winter, comes spring, and after our present trials will assuredly come victory and a release from these evil things. Let us then put our trust, as I do, in God, and in the unconquerable spirit of the British people.

Bishop to Speak

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., will probably make a series of speeches in various parts of the United Kingdom to inform the British people of the progress of air activity, it was learned at the Air Ministry here this afternoon.

The Canadian ace of the first great war arrived in England from the Dominion by plane today.

Barrymore Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Barrymore filed suit for divorce today from Elaine Barrie in another of the domestic break-ups which have become historic.

He charges the New York brunette, whom he met in the course of a newspaper interview, with causing him "grievous mental suffering and great bodily injury." Nature of the latter was not specified.

3 Killed in Crash

KANSAS CITY (AP)—At least three persons, including the pilot, were believed killed in a training plane which crashed late today in a wooded thicket in the northeast industrial district.

Nazis' Biggest Plane Chased By R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—Londoners returned to their air-raid shelters again tonight as the presence or approach of German bombers was signalled shortly after sunset. London thus faced its 17th successive night of air assault.

Earlier homeward bound London throngs had ducked into shelters as German bombers were reported approaching the capital in the third daylight raid since dawn.

Shortly afterward a large flight of heavy German planes was reported directly over London, but it was not visible to ground watchers because the sky was heavily overcast.

Royal Air Force planes apparently dispersed any raiders, for soon after the raid had started, London resumed its normal activity.

Nazi-held Ports And Plants Bombed

While Londoners were taking shelter the people were cheered by news that the R.A.F. was continuing its smashing blows at Nazi centres. In its night communiqué the Air Ministry said nine French and Belgian ports where German invasion preparations have been in progress were pounded.

The statement said: "Our aircraft all returned safely from widespread operations in Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, which were carried out successfully during last night and the early hours of this morning."

The important aluminum works at Lauta, near Dresden, were bombed and fires broke out. Railways in this neighborhood were attacked at several points and near Dresden hits were scored on a supply train.

"Strong forces of bombers also attacked docks, harbors and shipping at the enemy-occupied ports of Flushing, Antwerp, Dunkerque, Ostend, Zeebrugge, Calais, Le Havre, Harfleur and Brest."

(The German high command's communiqué today said: "British planes on the night of Sept. 22-23 dropped bombs in northern Germany and destroyed several farm houses. Scattered enemy planes came over Berlin. However, they caused no damage.")

Nazi raiders were paced by a

Weather May Break

Although yesterday afternoon many people were claiming that the weather at this time of year was unusually hot, a report from the meteorological observatory on Gonzales Hill, showed that yesterday's "highest" recording was 77 degrees. This mark does not compare with temperatures well over the 80 mark recorded on similar dates during recent years.

Today, at noon, the thermometer stood at 73 degrees.

The forecast for tomorrow, however, is less encouraging. Fresh easterly winds are expected, with partly cloudy skies.

CALLED

Bruce Hutchison, Times columnist, landed today in Toronto by plane from Victoria, his writing trip of interior of B.C. having been interrupted at the weekend by a call from the Minister of National Defence at Ottawa.

Physically-fit male students at Victoria College will put in six hours a week military training without losing lectures or study time, Principal P. H. Elliott told the assembled student body of 236 at the opening of the 1940-41 year this morning. The above picture shows the students as they went to their seats to hear the principal speak.

"We will look upon this as an integral part of our work. Time will be taken for military training which would not otherwise be devoted to study. There will be no lowering of academic standards. It may be necessary to use some of the time which has previously been devoted to games," the principal stated.

"monster" bomber when they crossed England's coasts during the day. Some reached London, sending its millions underground three times before dark. The western part of the capital was spattered with bombs.

Vigorous anti-aircraft fire quickly cleared the skies, however, and most of the invaders were believed to have been turned back by the Royal Air Force fighter squadrons before they reached the capital.

Authoritative reports said five raiders were shot down in air battles with fighter planes during the morning.

Waves of German planes surged across the coast as Nazi forces again intensified the Battle of Britain after a lull in daylight raids.

Fighter patrols, waiting for them, broke up the German squadrons and sent them back in disorder across the Channel.

A police officer told Exchange Telegraph News Agency that he spotted the big new enemy plane with binoculars and "I was astonished by the huge size of its wing span."

"Accompanying Messerschmitts were dots by comparison," he said.

Attention was attracted to the giant raider by "smoke trails from twin engine ports," a correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph said.

"The monster raider was followed by three formations each of nine bombers," he reported, all flying at terrific height.

Monster Pursued By Spitfires

Coastal anti-aircraft batteries opened fire, but their shells did not reach the planes. The formation was scattered by Spitfires and Hurricanes and when last seen the great bomber was speeding toward the Channel with Spitfires in pursuit.

Two of the Nazi planes downed were Messerschmitt 109 fighters. A third was said to have fallen into the sea at Portsmouth and a fourth near the Isle of Wight.

A lone raider dropped 12 high explosive bombs in a southeast coast town. They fell in a working class district, damaging small houses and injuring about 20 persons.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch said that when one British airman bailed out of a fighter plane over the Thames estuary two Spitfires circled him continuously until he had made a safe landing.

"This operation was necessary because an enemy machine was seen to dive after the parachuting airman and a burst of machine-gun fire was heard faintly," said the dispatch.

A German bomber was reported brought down in the Thames estuary in the vicinity of the Isle of Grain. Persons on the Essex Coast saw it dive, pouring smoke, apparently after being hit by anti-aircraft fire.

The Press Association said its reports suggested four enemy formations attempted to reach London by three routes—over the Kent coast, the Essex coast and the Thames estuary.

During the London warnings, barrage balloons appeared to have been sent up to a far greater height than ever before.

One of the Messerschmitts was brought down by a Spitfire fighter beside the Folkestone harbor, and the watchers saw the pilot of the latter machine bail out and float toward earth north of Dover.

Collegians Begin Their Studies

Physically-fit male students at Victoria College will put in six hours a week military training without losing lectures or study time, Principal P. H. Elliott told the assembled student body of 236 at the opening of the 1940-41 year this morning. The above picture shows the students as they went to their seats to hear the principal speak.

"We will look upon this as an integral part of our work. Time will be taken for military training which would not otherwise be devoted to study. There will be no lowering of academic standards. It may be necessary to use some of the time which has previously been devoted to games," the principal stated.

Prof. Elliott emphasized the increased responsibility imposed upon students coming up from High Schools, noting the College year was completed in seven months against the 10 allowed in lower grades.

He drew the students' attention to the need for study, whether or not special reading was prescribed. "The student who finds no need for study during the year, usually spends a busy summer preparing for supplements," he remarked.

SELF GOVERNMENT

Prof. Elliott touched upon the principles of student self-government at the College terming it "a small experiment in democratic control," and reminding the assembly the success of the experiment depended on co-operation. Should it fail a more paternal system would have to be followed, he indicated.

Vivian Temple, secretary of the Students' Council, extended a welcome to first and second year students and called for their unqualified support in the various activities of the College and sketched the interest groups in operation.

Prof. J. A. Cunningham, registrar, instructed the students on their requirements for the year and informed them of timetable arrangements. Lectures will start at 9 tomorrow morning.

Wendell Willkie Comes to Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Seattle prepared a rousing welcome for Wendell Willkie, first Republican presidential nominee to visit Washington State in 24 years, who was due here late today to deliver one of the major addresses of his western campaign tour.

He will speak at 8:30 tonight in the Seattle baseball stadium and members of the Willkie-for-President Club and the Republican state committee are predicting one of the largest crowds ever assembled here will greet him.

He was due to arrive by special train at 4:30 from Portland and enter a parade through the business district was to be taken to the Olympic Hotel so he could obtain some rest before tonight's address.

Ashore Off Nova Scotia

CANSO (AP) — The 1,175-ton Newfoundland steamship Imogene was aground off Nova Scotia near the Strait of Canso after striking a rock late Saturday.

The vessel's crew of 28, all Newfoundlanders except one, escaped to shore in the ship's boats but the fate of the Imogene was uncertain. Efforts were being made to salvage her.

British Ships Shell Invaders in Egypt

CAIRO (CP) — The Mediterranean war for Africa and the Near East quickened today as the Royal Navy and Air Force raided Italian positions and the government of Egypt declared martial law.

Martial law was invoked as a defence measure by Premier Hassan Elaby Pasha.

A naval communiqué said a fleet of warships attacked Italian positions along the Egyptian coast, with good results, early Sunday. It was the second naval bombardment of the area, 60 miles inside the Egyptian frontier, in an effort to disorganize preparations for a further advance across the desert.

Sidi Barrani was declared by a Reuters news agency dispatch to have been the scene of great slaughter among occupying Italian troops when British land mines were exploded, blowing the village to bits.

DESEET SANDS' NEWEST BATTLEFIELD — Sidi Barrani, Egypt, where the Italian troops have been bombarded twice by a British fleet, and Tobruk, bombed a number of times by the R.A.F., are shown on the map above.

Induce the Premier to consent to a special session.

CONQUEST AIM
Saudists who quit the cabinet declared in a letter that the Italians' penetration of Egyptian territory and attempts to fortify themselves there leave no doubt of their decision to conquer it, contrary to Mussolini's declaration that he has no intention of aggression against Egypt.

The sufferings of war, no matter how great, were preferable to the "shame and cowardice of counting on others for her (Egypt's) defence," said the Saudists.

RAIDERS DRIVEN OFF
British authorities reported an Italian attempt to bomb the naval base at Alexandria Saturday, but said the raiders were driven off by anti-aircraft fire.

A Fascist raid on Haifa, an oil port in Palestine, killed 32 persons and injured 68 Saturday. The victims were reported to be Arabs.

ENEMY CLAIMS

ROME (AP) — The Italian high command communique Monday said:

"It was learned from further information an enemy cruiser reported torpedoed by one of our planes in a bulletin September 19 later said:

(No British cruiser has been reported sunk recently.)

"Photographs of the last bombardment of Haifa (in British-mandated Palestine) September 21 show an excellent result of the operations. Extensive fires were caused everywhere.

(British sources said "a certain amount" of damage was caused.)

"NO CASUALTIES"

"In north Africa, the enemy renewed the bombardment of Sidi Barrani, damaging various dwellings. Thanks to protective and police measures, there were no casualties.

"An air raid on Bardia caused neither casualties nor damage.

"Port works at Aden were subjected to night bombardment. Ships struck by our aviation during an attack on a convoy in the Red Sea reported in a previous bulletin amount to three.

"Enemy planes dropped bombs on Gura Kassala and near Asmara, where they killed two natives and wounded two others. They caused light damage.

"One empty steamship of ours was sunk by an enemy submarine in the southern Tyrrhenian Sea."

THE "AD" — Reproduction of an advertisement in a San Francisco newspaper, which followed wordage used by the kidnappers of Marc de Tristan in a ransom note instructing parents of the child how to announce that the $100,000 ransom demand would be met.

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Unharmed, baby Marc de Tristan was safe in the arms of his happy family today while Federal Bureau of Investigation men held his accused abductor, an alien German, Wilhelm Jakob Muhlenbroich, at some secret spot.

Hillsborough residents last night turned out by thousands to roar a welcome as Count Marc de Tristan proudly bore his son up a long path to the waiting mother.

On a grimmer note, Chief of Police C. M. Hirschey said:

"I think that more than one person was involved in this kidnapping, and I expect several sensational revelations to be made when the trial opens."

HINTS LYNCHING
And he added: "I don't want Muhlenbroich in my jail—there are too many trees close by."

The F.B.I. said Muhlenbroich, 40, had confessed kidnapping three-year-old Marc Friday, striking the child's nurse to the street. Yesterday his confused flight ended in a mountainous El Dorado County, as two alert hunters braved his revolver to disarm and truss him.

Immigration Inspector E. C. Benson of Oakland said the dark-skinned abductor, a seaman, was arrested for illegal entry in 1925, but his records did not show whether he had been deported. The F.B.I. learned he had entered from Vancouver, Canada, under the German quota 10 years later.

The child had not a mark or bruise, the De Tristan family physician said, yet it was learned he had been perilously close to death in the wild ride of the stolen kidnaper.

CAR PLUNGES 40 FEET

Rounding a sharp curve in the mountain park, the car plunged over a 40-foot embankment. Man and child were unhurt, and Muhlenbroich climbed up to the road and at gunpoint took the car of the next passerby.

Transferring the child and his stock of canned goods and ammunition to the new vehicle, Muhlenbroich roared on—until a few hours later he lost his way. Then he met Cecil Wetzel, 22, pound sawmill owner, taking a log truck to his Omo ranch mill.

"How in the h— do I get out of here?" he asked.

Wetzel, the San Francisco Chronicle said in a copyrighted story, had already noted the fair-haired child, clad only in a sun suit, in the car.

The lumberman, a former Washington State College football player and wrestler, gave directions, then followed Muhlenbroich until he stopped for further instructions. Wetzel stepped to the road, moved in close and grunted, "How about that baby?"

The suspected kidnapper drew a revolver and Wetzel dove for him. They rolled briefly in a welter of flying fists, dust and weapons.

Ellis Wood, a lumberjack, arrived in time to help Wetzel take a second revolver from Muhlenbroich—who had a holster under each arm—and bind him with stout cord.

In Wetzel's car the woodsman drove to River Pine with the wide-eyed child and sullen captive. Wetzel telephoned authorities, while Marc Jr.—whose last food had been pineapple juice the night before—was fed and warmed at Frank Breidenbach's general store. For three hours Muhlenbroich lay trussed on the floor of the barbershop next door, under the muzzles of rifles in the hands of watchful River Pine folk, while Marc played with the Breidenbach's spaniel.

In a note dropped when he abducted the child Muhlenbroich demanded $100,000 ransom.

WORKED IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP) — Hedley Tuff, Vancouver barber shop proprietor, expressed amazement today at news that the quiet, gentlemanly, Bill Mullen who worked for him here from 1931 to 1935 was held in California for the kidnapping of three-year-old Marc de Tristan.

"I knew his name was Muhlenbroich, for he told me he called himself Mullen because it was easier to pronounce and because of anti-German feeling after the war," said Mr. Tuff. "I'd almost have to see a picture of the kidnapper, though, before I'd believe it was the same man. His description seems to check, though."

"He worked for me for four years, and all I can say is that he was a perfect gentleman. All the customers liked him, and he seemed completely satisfied with his wage and job. He was an inveterate mountain climber, and was up on the mountains every Sunday and holiday, rain or shine. His mountaineering friends would often drop into the shop and talk with him."

"He used to send me a card on my birthday, each March 21, but this year I didn't get one, for the first time since he left me."

British Mission To South America

LONDON (CP Cable) — The Marquess of Willington, former Governor-General of Canada, will head a diplomatic and economic mission to South America about the middle of October, it was announced today by Harcourt Johnstone, Secretary to the Department of Overseas Trade.

The mission will visit Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela. It will have the double object of promoting British trade and explaining to those nations the necessity of imposing the blockade against their trade with Europe.

The trade mission "has been fully explained in Washington and it has their approval and sympathy," it was announced.

Menzies Remains Australia Head

MELBOURNE (CP) — The coalition ministry headed by Prime Minister R. G. Menzies will have a working majority in both houses of the Australian parliament—from three to five in the House of Representatives and one in the Senate—it was indicated today on the basis of incomplete returns.

The probable line-up of the parties as compared with the standing at dissolution follows:

House of Representatives:

	New	Old
Government:
United Australia	25	26
Country	14	16
Opposition:
Labor	31	23
Lang Labor	3	9
Independent	1	—
Total	74	74

Senate:

	New	Old
Government
(13 holdovers)	19	20
(14 holdovers)	17	16

As counting proceeds under the Commonwealth proportional representation electoral system there probably will be changes in the standing. Polling took place Saturday.

Labor made its most substantial gains in New South Wales, where the opposition to the government was led by Herbert Vere Evatt, who resigned as a judge of the high court of Australia to contest a seat on behalf of the official opposition led by John Curtin.

Mr. Curtin himself was defeated, but a movement was started to open a safe Labor seat for him in order that he may carry on as Opposition leader. Should this not be done, Mr. Evatt is regarded as a possible new leader.

Labor Warned Of 5th Column

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian Trades and Labor Congress pledged itself anew to the successful prosecution of the war and to the establishment of a just and permanent peace, Tom Moore of Ottawa declared today in his presidential address to the opening of the Congress' 56th annual convention here.

Mr. Moore was one of a number of speakers, including Lieut-Governor Hamber and Hon. George Pearson, Provincial Minister of Labor, who addressed approximately 300 delegates from all parts of Canada.

Mr. Moore told the delegates "nothing like this convention would be possible if it were not for the bravery in the front line of the British Isles today."

He said the labor movement played a great part in the war, such as turning out vital equipment and supplies and it was up to labor to see that no subversive elements, "such as the fifth column," found a place in its ranks.

Lieut-Governor Hamber told the convention "whatever differences there may be between capital and labor should be pushed aside until Nazism has been banished from the earth. Everyone must work together."

He said the "days of wishful thinking are past," and he was sure "you delegates from all parts of Canada realize the gravity of the task facing us."

Mr. Pearson praised the Congress for its "sound leadership," which he said was a most important factor.

Strike Vote at Trail

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Results of a strike vote being held to settle a wage dispute between the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited and its Trail-Tadanac employees will be completed Tuesday, according to an announcement.

The vote resulted from workers' demands for an increase of $1 a day on the basic wages. They opposed an alternative proposal made by the company for a percentage increase on the basis of the cost of living.

Nazis' Sinking of Ship With 87 Children And 206 Grown-ups Steels Britain

By SAM ROBERTSON—Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP)—A horrified and angry Britain vowed today to continue with the evacuation of children overseas from these bomb-scarred islands despite German torpedoing of a mercy ship with the loss of 87 youngsters bound for Canadian havens, and 206 grownups.

It was night and the Atlantic was heaving under the lashing of hail and rain when a U-boat fired a torpedo into the Canada-bound liner without warning last Tuesday. The Nazis must have known chances of rescue were practically nil for the vessel was 600 miles from the Irish coast. One hundred and thirteen survivors of the 406 passengers and crew tossed in lifeboats and on rafts that constantly were awash for as long as 14 hours before a British warship was able to buck across great seas to their rescue.

Waves washed exhausted children and adults from the boats and off the rafts. Scantly clad against the chill water and hail, others died of exposure. The torpedo struck where many boys were asleep and merciful instant death saved them from worse horrors.

Will Not Interfere With Future Plans

It is stated reliably the sinking will not be permitted to interfere with government's plans to send children to Canada, the Antipodes and other countries overseas.

This "revolting tragedy must not be allowed to slow up the speed of overseas evacuation," said the London News Chronicle. The Evening News commented that "if the lessons of this disaster are properly and promptly learned there is no reason why the children's overseas reception board should not go on with all the safety that is humanly possible."

"This is the sea war as it was always intended by Germany," said the Manchester Guardian in an editorial. "The shame and horror of it will be remembered long after Hitler and his tools have been swept from power."

Under an editorial heading of "murder," the London Daily Herald declared "Hitler, himself, directly, fully and personally bears the guilt. Let us write that in our hearts and never forget it."

The Daily Telegraph said that "while the world will be shocked by this deed without name, it must also be startled into a clearer, fuller realization of what Nazi code of conduct allows and what domination of the world by Nazi power would mean for freedom not only of human freedom, but of human decency."

Nazis People Without Conscience

The Times of London called the sinking "criminal" and added "the German way of warfare knows no restraint of conscience." The London Daily Mail, under the heading "Murder at Sea," said: "Nothing of all that has happened has given the world a more vivid and awful example of the sort of warfare Hitler wages."

It asked if the government is absolutely satisfied with the arrangements for transportation of the children and if the ships were conveyed far enough to sea. It said it was not a sufficient answer that thousands of children had already been taken across the Atlantic without loss of life, but that "still more must be done to prevent a repetition of this intolerable tragedy."

"The horror with which news of the disaster is received will be mingled with astonishment that a calamity so grievous could have happened," the Glasgow Herald said.

"The whole circumstances of the sinking and the heavy loss of life will no doubt be rigorously investigated at the earliest moment. No other scheme of action is possible if the scheme for sending children overseas is to be retained in the government's disposal policy."

First Group To Suffer Death

The casualties were the first in the transport to safety of nearly 3,000 youngsters, but it was not the first time a Nazi undersea craft had imperilled evacuees. However, when the Netherlands liner Volendam was torpedoed August 30, 320 little refugees from totalitarian warfare and 800 others en route to Canada were saved. Only two members of the crew perished with the liner.

The ship had been conveyed to a point beyond which U-boats seldom venture.

The government waited until Sunday night to announce the tragedy of almost a week to give welfare workers opportunity to notify the children's parents in London, Liverpool and Middlesbrough after exhausted survivors had been brought to a northern port of England.

The ship, her name undisclosed, sank in a stormy sea within 20 minutes after she was attacked at 10 last Tuesday night, the announcement said.

Little Chance For Passengers

The announcement did not identify the submarine, but Geoffrey Shakespeare, chairman of the Children's Overseas Reception Board, issued a statement which said:

"I am full of horror and indignation that any German submarine captain could be found to torpedo a ship over 600 miles from land in a tempestuous sea. 'The conditions were such that there was little chance for passengers, whether adult or child, to survive.'"

All the parents of the children lost had been notified, Mr. Shakespeare said. This was done by trained social workers who went to homes, "breaking the news as gently as possible."

Mr. Shakespeare also wrote a letter to each home affected in which he declared that "unhappily the course of the war has shown that neither by land nor sea can there be complete safety."

Storm and Cold Prevented Rescue

The government announcement said "tragic circumstances"—the violence of the explosion, the storm, and the cold-defeated careful precautions taken for the children's safety.

The survivors, 13 children, 18 women and 82 men—the latter including members of the crew that had numbered 251—were exhausted and drenched when taken aboard the British warship, but in good spirits by the time they returned to England last Friday.

They told of stark horror, suffering, shock and heroism, especially on the part of the children, whose behavior was described as "magnificent."

All but 10 of the children were being removed abroad by the government. The 10 were being taken to Canada privately by relatives.

Col. James Baldwin-Webb, member of Parliament and general manager of Baldwin's Steel Works at Birmingham, was injured badly by the torpedo blast and went down with the ship after refusing a place in a lifeboat until all the women and children were safe. He was going to Canada on a Red Cross mission.

Also aboard the ship were refugees seeking to leave the war behind after being released from German concentration camps. They included Czechs, Hungarians, Hollanders and some Germans. The German Baroness von Inglesleben, who had been in a German concentration camp many months, died of heart disease after she had been lowered into a lifeboat.

Professor Saved By Stroke of Luck

John Percival Day, professor of economics at McGill University, survived the torpedoing of the ship through what he described as "a great stroke of luck."

The renowned English-born educationist, whose 60th birthday was today, described his harrowing experience after the explosion of the torpedo.

"I slid down a rope into the sea," Prof. Day said. "I had been swimming through giant waves for some time when a lifeboat came near me and heard my shouts. Although it was heavily loaded and waterlogged, kind hands dragged me aboard."

He asked to be excused from talking any more about "the nightmare."

Boy's Heroism 'Magnificent'

Many acts of heroism shone through dark tragedy when the liner went to the bottom.

There was 10-year-old Edward Colin Ryder Richardson, a wisp of a Welsh boy who tried to keep a spark of life flickering in the nurse aboard the lifeboat in which he rode the angry seas for some hours. Only 14 of 38 persons in the boat survived.

When the dying nurse asked that someone cradle her head, little Edward clasped her in his arms and said over and over again, "I can see the boats, nurse. It won't be long now." His white lies were in vain. The woman succumbed from exposure.

Angus MacDonald, the ship's carpenter who was in charge of a lifeboat, said: "Even when the adults were moaning from the cold and sleet beating into their wounds, even when the dead were being lowered overboard, young Richardson kept trying to cheer us up. He was magnificent."

The little hero, whose parents were evacuating him privately, and Prof. Day were among the survivors of this water-logged boat. The professor said young Richardson was "the bravest and kindest boy I've ever seen."

Thirteen-year-old Eleanor Wright, being evacuated from Sunderland under the government scheme, buoyed the spirits of 23 others in her lifeboat by telling them "Don't worry, the British Navy won't let us down." Only five out of these 23 lived to see her promise come through.

Other passengers told how Ernest Sekulas, London publisher, held the stiffened bodies of two dead children in his arms and sang to them so their dying mother—the wife of a British soldier who is a prisoner of war—wouldn't know they had succumbed to the cold.

"I didn't know women and children could die so easily," Sekulas said. He broke down after saying he couldn't be interviewed further.

Australian Saved Several Children

The passengers also placed a hero's wreath on A. E. Dowling, an Australian. He dived from a lifeboat into the chilly, night-shrouded waves a number of times to bring back children who had been washed overboard. He thought not at all of his own safety and did not seem to tire.

He pleaded that excuse—tiredness—to escape an interview.

There were other heroes, too—the children who sang "Roll Out the Barrel" as the liner slipped to the bottom and the captain who shouted "Take care of yourselves now" to the passengers and then went down with his ship.

This is the story of Miss E. M. Day, chief escort:

"I was in my cabin when I heard an explosion. As I seized my coat and lifebelt water was entering the cabin. I dashed to the children's quarters and found them still asleep."

"I shouted, 'Get up, get up!' The children obeyed instantly. 'Each child had a lifebelt. An officer shouted to the children to hurry on deck and we started, with the children behaving magnificently.'

"Suddenly the ship, which had been blacked out, burst into light. I could see one little girl badly hurt. The first officer helped us to lifeboats. I fell twice and he helped me up."

Wave Tossed Boat Safe Distance

"We clambered into a lifeboat and it had shipped much water and its rudder was gone. As it wallowed in the sea we feared it would be sucked down by the sinking ship, but a huge wave tossed us to a safe distance from the ship."

"We saw many other small boats. The children were singing 'Roll Out the Barrel.' As they came to the part that goes 'We'll Have a Barrel of Fun'—the ship sank."

"When the burning ship disappeared the darkness was terrifying. There was no disorder—only the moaning and crying of the wounded."

"We were in water up to our hips. It was terribly cold and a sailor kept shouting, 'Lifeboat ahoi, we are swamping. Will you please come over?' No one answered."

"Much later a raft drifted by and from the survivors on it we obtained brandy, which we urged the children to sip. Some of the children died of exposure. The first to go was a wounded girl. Then her sister. It was terrible."

Miss Day, her voice dull with sorrow, described how the moon came out later and then how the sky became overcast again, bringing rain and hail.

When dawn came they sighted 12 lifeboats, she related, and then a warship arrived on the scene and started picking up survivors.

"It was light then," said Miss Day, "for we could see what had happened. In our boat there was only one child, two escorts, a stewardess and two sailors alive."

Christian Burial From Lifeboat

W. B. Forsyth of London tried to give Christian burial to companions who had died in his lifeboat. He said he conducted a short committal service after

The disaster involved the greatest loss of civilian life since the Arandora Star was torpedoed early in July. Upwards of 800 German and Italian internees bound for Canada and 100 British seamen and guards perished then. Another Montreal-bound liner, the Athenia, was sunk September 3, 1939, with a loss of 112 lives.

News of the latest tragedy was held back because other British children were on the Atlantic. Announcement of their safe arrival in Canada was made here yesterday morning. An earlier release of the tragic news would have caused anguish among their parents—and there was enough anguish in these isles already.

Entire Families Lost Together

Whole families of children were lost. Three sons of Cyril Pugh of Liverpool were victims. Three daughters of William Bessley of London went down.

Five of Jim Grimmond's 10 children who survived a recent bombing of their London home are gone. Grimmond, 42, a machine gunner in the last war, said through clenched teeth: "I'm joining up again to get revenge for this cold blooded murder."

Thirty-six Lascar seamen were among those saved. Nurse Doris Walker told of looking over the side of the listing vessel and seeing children floating in the water.

"I couldn't look twice," she said. "Their dazed eyes and terror-stricken faces were more than I could stand."

BERLIN (AP)—Official German circles today described the story of the sinking of a British refugee ship as a "far joke" intended to get the United States into the war on Britain's side.

(The announcement was a variation of the German propaganda method—used when the Nazis blamed Britain for the sinking of the Athenia on the first day of the war.)

It was claimed officially no passenger vessel identifiable as such had been torpedoed by any German U-boat either within or outside the announced blockade zone.

Further, it was said officially, not even a freighter has been torpedoed outside the announced blockade zone unless it was clearly armed.

Good Will Behind Us

HIS MAJESTY REMINDED THE WORLD today that grim days are ahead, that the defenders of the right will be called upon to make still greater sacrifices; but "we have behind us the good will of all who love freedom," and "our friends in the Americas have shown us this in many ways, not the least by their gifts for the relief of suffering in this war."

As His Majesty very truly said, the British people entered the war fully cognizant of the formidable forces against them, but confident their cause was just. Those who cherish liberty, who are anxious to preserve a way of life which the totalitarian boastfully declares belongs to effete peoples and decadent democracies, know full well Britain's fight is the fight of all men who find consolation in an ability to call their souls their own.

The message was phrased in the simple language which exemplifies the sincerity and honest purpose of King George. It was fitting, too, that His Majesty should face the microphone in his London home which, like the humble dwellings of thousands of his subjects in the East End, in scattered towns and villages throughout the land, and the mansions of Mayfair, bears the trade mark of the Hun. The high command of the Nazi oligarchy may feel proud of the damage done to Buckingham Palace, Hitler and Goering and Goebbels naturally were disappointed that only structural hurts resulted from the several attacks on this "military objective." And perhaps none were a broader smile than the King himself when the ponderous German broadcaster announced that bombs had dropped on the royal abode because it adjoined a large oil supply base.

We in Canada can assure His Majesty that the people of "the Americas" hate totalitarianism and everything for which it stands as much as do his loyal subjects in this Dominion. They know Britain's cause is just; and, all in good time, they will find a way of impressing this knowledge still more definitely on the minds of the men who are trying to dominate the world.

Scrambled Politics

ALTHOUGH SOME CHANGES MAY OCCUR as the counting under the Proportional Representation electoral system proceeds, it would appear that the result of the general elections in the Commonwealth of Australia will present Prime Minister R. G. Menzies with a difficult task—unless, of course, some sort of political harmony can be reached with the Labor opposition parties. As we write, he is assured of a working majority in the House of Representatives of from three to five, and in the Senate of one only. In the recent House the government coalition—United Australia and Country parties—commanded 42 votes, but the prospects for the next House are a reduction to 39, with the Labor opposition, including one Independent, totaling 35 against 32 in the last Parliament. While Labor is divided against itself, with at least two factions apparently unable to define or agree on a common policy, it made substantial gains in New South Wales, where a "judge" of the High Court of Australia resigned to contest a seat on behalf of the official opposition lead by Mr. John Curtin. It should be noted, incidentally, that three Laborites were elected to support extremist Lang.

Australia's political difficulties are purely domestic; they have nothing whatever to do with the country's magnificent war effort. Since the present government assumed office barely 18 months ago, in the teeth of a bitter conflict between Mr. Menzies and Sir Earle Page, then leader of the Country Party, personalities have militated seriously against harmony in the coalition itself. Widespread regret often has manifested itself that the Prime Minister did not forgive and forget and magnanimously take the Country Party into the administration under Sir Earle Page's leadership—only because of the latter's long ministerial experience. But Mr. Menzies was nothing if not thorough in his determination to find no place for an obviously able man in any cabinet of which he was the head. Sir Earle eventually made way for Mr. A. G. Cameron and the coalition came about in March of last year.

The partnership of Mr. Menzies and Mr. Cameron, however, evidently has not been a happy one. The latter has frequently reproached the Prime Minister with having regarded—and, still worse, treated—the coalition as a disagreeable necessity, instead of making it a source of strength. While these differences have existed among the elements of the administrative party, moreover, Labor has resolutely refused all invitations to join in a really national government. It was the oppositionists' unwillingness to support a petition for a further lease of life for the present Parliament which occasioned the appeal to the people. And until the final returns of the polling have been tabulated, of course, we shall get little indication of what the Prime Minister will do.

Europe faces a famine and may be forced to rely on substitute food products made from wood, giving termites a chance to exercise squatter's rights in a ham sandwich.

The German Way

DECENT PEOPLE THE WORLD OVER are no longer surprised at anything to which the men who want to control the destinies of all men will stoop. Ghastly as were some of the deeds of German submarines in the first Great War, few compared with the stark horror of last Tuesday's attack on a British liner with her precious freight of helpless mites on their way to Canada. The men who ordered the firing of the torpedo which sent the vessel to the bottom knew her passengers would have little chance of escape. Her position was 600 miles off the Irish coast; a heavy sea was running; the waters were mercilessly lashed by rain and hail; it was a good night for Hitler's minions to follow their calling. Out of a passenger and crew list of 496, 87 children escaping from the sky terror, together with 206 grown-ups, are now added to the toll which the madman of Berlin continues to take in human lives and property in his attempt to satisfy his own "senseless ambitions."

What the people of Britain are thinking now they have been reminded again of the type of warfare which suits the Nazi scheme we can well imagine; we know what our own people and the people of the United States are thinking today. It is the German way—not only the way of the Nazi government; it is sanctioned by the German folk who have condoned it with their sickening heiling of this mad monster. Surely when the day of reckoning comes, one of the terms of the peace which the forces of right will impose will be the surrender of Adolf Hitler and the gang of cut-throats who now are challenging the world. There must be no half-way measures this time.

Building In Canada

EVIDENTLY THE WAR EFFORTS OF the Dominion government are having a decidedly favorable effect on the construction industry of Canada. According to MacLean Building Reports, the total value of construction contracts awarded during July aggregated $29,306,000 as compared with $22,130,000 during the corresponding month last year, an increase of 32 per cent. The improvement during the first seven months of the present year was even greater. Total construction contracts awarded during this period amounted to $134,700,000 this year as compared with $105,600,000 last year, an increase of 46 per cent.

Industrial construction and engineering works were chiefly responsible for this increase. During the first seven months of 1940, industrial contracts awarded aggregated nearly $30,000,000 as compared with $14,000,000 during the corresponding period a year ago, an increase of 110 per cent. Engineering contracts awarded increased from $19,000,000 last year to $40,600,000 this year, an increase of 107 per cent. These gains were more than sufficient to offset a curtailment of residential building. Residential contracts in July declined to $5,522,000 this year from $7,693,000 last year. For the first seven months, residential contracts amounted to $38,000,000 as compared with $41,000,000 a year ago.

The increase in construction contracts awarded during July 1940 was due in part to the expansion of air training in the Dominion. Although a moderate decline in building activity for national defence will probably occur later on in the year, the prospect is that total construction in Canada during the present calendar year will be higher than during any year since 1931.

Another German Caught

IT WAS A GERMAN WHO KIDNAPPED little Marc de Tristan. It was a German who paid the supreme penalty for the Lindbergh tragedy. It was a German who sent 87 children to their watery grave in the north Atlantic last Tuesday night.

Beastliness, of course, is a particular Teutonic trait. It has manifested itself in various forms down the years. It is part of the persuasiveness which the literature in the line has used with such extraordinary success in those European capitals where supposedly intelligent statesmen weighed, and are still weighing, the diplomatic and economic merits of the opposing philosophies in the present conflict. How wrong some of them have been in their conclusions, how wrong others may yet be if they trust Adolf Hitler, the progress of events will prove.

For the moment, however, the decent world, especially the people of this continent, will rejoice in the fact that the German who kidnapped young Marc de Tristan has been caught, and that the child is safely back with his parents.

'FORTRESS'

From New York Post

The controlled Nazi press makes no pretense that the German air force is striking merely at military objectives in its blitzkrieg against England. The objective of the dynamite and the fire bombs is to bring the men, women and children of England to such a state of blood and terror that they will seek peace at any cost. This is quite clear in the quotations from the Nazi newspapers now being passed by the Berlin censors. Yet the men who write these things still attempt to hide part of the truth. One, writing in the Hamburger Fremdenblatt, says:

"The fortress of London is playing just as challengingly and just as frivolously with fate as did the fortress of Warsaw."

"Fortress!" "Fate!" London is no more a fortress than Warsaw was a fortress. London is, and Warsaw was, the principal city of people who loved decency and freedom, who sought peace but resisted aggression. Fate is not the force the people of London challenge, but a certain paranoia, Adolf Hitler, mad to conquer and again to conquer. Some things are so horrible that even their perpetrators dare not give them names.

MONEY FOR ALL, BUT THE CROWER

THE TOWNS OF THE Okanagan are the most prosperous to look at in Canada, and the most deceptive. Everywhere new houses surge up, stores and hotels are rebuilt and on Saturday night you cannot find a parking space on the main street. Every stranger imagines that the fruit industry is rolling in wealth. The fruit industry is going broke.

Not suddenly, but gradually and inevitably, on the present market. A few more years like this and British Columbia, like Washington and other parts of America, will witness the spectacle of orchards chopped down, the land turned back to grass, or abandoned altogether. But the grower hangs on in the belief that in a few more years conditions will be better, that more fruit will be eaten, at a better price. This is the hope that keeps the valley alive.

The obvious prosperity of the Okanagan towns is based, of course, on fruit, but this does not mean that the grower is making any money. The towns receive every year the grower's overhead, the money that he pours into the production of his fruit. Even though the grower makes nothing, the towns can prosper on the cost of growing apples—a cost that cannot be avoided, money must be spent.

Coast people are deceived, also, by the prosperity of the relatively small number of growers who have private means. Their way of living has built up the popular legend of the carefree orchardist, who spends his time playing tennis and drinking cocktails, with a few weeks' work at picking time. It is a false legend developed by a few fortunate men of wealth who grow fruit as a hobby.

MR. SMITH'S ORCHARD

A TYPICAL GROWER not far from here has kept in exhaustive detail a record of all his costs and his income. Call this man Smith.

Smith's orchard is not as productive as some, better than many—an average orchard of 21 acres. Smith invested $25,000 in it 20 years ago. In the good years after the war he did well. Later, in the five years between 1931 and 1935 Smith had a net return, on the average, of $315 a year. If he had invested money in bonds at 5 per cent he would have had a return of $1,250 a year, enough to live on. And today Smith would still have his $25,000 if he had invested it in bonds. He is about to lose his orchard to the company which gave him a mortgage. He has not been able to live on the returns of the orchard and he has lost his capital.

Some growers do much better than Smith. With exceptional soil, better trees, better luck in pests and weather, a grower may still do well. One man near here grew 1,000 boxes of apples per acre last year where 400 is considered good. But, taking the whole industry into consideration, it is obvious that it cannot make money, cannot pay its way, on the present return from fruit.

The city housewife can never understand or believe that, when she buys a box of apples, she never sees the work that goes into that single box—the pruning in the winter time, the discing of the ground in the spring, the three or four expensive sprayings, the taxes and irrigation water bills, the cultivating and hauling, the repairs to flumes, the picking. Smith spent $4,275 on his 21 acres last year in just these operating costs on the land—such items as $840 for labor, $792 for picking, $207 for hauling, $560 for taxes, $499 for spraying.

THE "SALLY ANN"

There's a rendezvous where buddies meet,
A home away from home,
Where buddies rest their souls and feet,
And write the folks back home.
There's lounges, games, and books to scan
And good things cheap to eat.
Yes, boys, you'll find the "Sally Ann"
With everything complete.

Makes no difference what the branch
Of service you are in,
Or if you come from town or ranch,
Or if you're fat or thin,
No matter how your serge is cut,
Religion, creed or clan;
If you are feeling in a rut
Come to the "Sally Ann."

A place to play or read or rest,
Yes, even lay you down,
Or eat a lunch, the very best
You'll get in any town.
So don't be lonely, sad or shy,
When evenings drag, my man,
Just take yourself in super high
Down to the "Sally Ann."

These lines were found under the clock in the lounge room of the Salvation Army Red Shield Centre on Broad Street. The poetry may be faulty but the sentiment is appreciated by the staff.

Tell that to the marines—the sailors won't believe it.—Sir Walter Scott.

"Does your father," asked the caller of the minister's little daughter, "ever preach the same sermon twice?" "Yes, I think he does," was the reply, "but he talks loud and soft in different places each time, so it doesn't sound the same."

NORTHWARD HO!

BY THE TIME this gets into print I will be started on a long trip through northern British Columbia and Alberta. Nearly all of Canada is wonderful at this time of year, but if there is anything more wonderful than the Peace River country in October I have not yet discovered it. The colors are not quite so varied as they are in the eastern woods in October, but are more vivid and the sunshine is like champagne.

One thing a travelling scout learns to do if he has to go over the same ground periodically is to go over his old notes. It is, of course, not necessary to get a new speech, but it certainly is necessary to get a few new anecdotes. It is exactly two years since I made this trip before, and I realize with a shock what an astounding space the world has traveled in that time.

When I left in 1938 the newspapers hereabouts were all running pictures of Hitler's snappy new small car (which never got further than the newspaper pictures). It was to sell for $400, run 50 miles a gallon, and was guaranteed to travel 500,000 miles without costing a single cent for repairs. Moreover, the same papers were charging our own manufacturers scores of millions of dollars a year in advertising, were running free this stuff by Dr. Goebbels. His masterpiece was the one paragraph which said that they were discarding the American plan of time payments. The German workers were all going to pay for their cars in advance. The kindly Fuehrer had thus arranged that when they got their cars they would not have a worry in the world.

The funny part of it was that people right here in B.C. swallowed that stuff, hook, line and sinker. Those were the days when a great and growing number of people in Canada were beginning to think that there was "a great deal to be said for the Hitler system."

The shock came at the time of Munich. I think when the future

CHURCHILL'S COMPANY

By Dorothy Thompson

And the master of the dyke against world chaos is you, Churchill. I don't know what spirits surround Hitler. I don't hear the great harmonies of Beethoven, but only the music of Wagner, the music of chaos. I do not see the ghost of Goethe, or the ghost of Bismarck, the last great German who knew when to stop. But around you, Winston Churchill, is a gallant company of ghosts: Elizabeth is there, and sweetest Shakespeare, the man who man the English Renaissance, Drake is there, and Raleigh and Wellington. Burke is there, and Walpole and Pitt. Byron is there, and Wordsworth and Shelley; yes, and I think Washington is there and Hamilton, two men of English blood whom gallant Englishmen defended in your Parliament. And Jefferson is there who died again the other day in France. All the makers of a world of freedom and law are there.

THANKS

To the Editor—May I, through your columns, on behalf of the men of the three services, sincerely thank Mrs. E. W. Hamber for her gift of three sets of table tennis racquets to the Knights of Columbus Canadian War Services Hut at Queen of Peace Church, Esquimalt. The racquets are much appreciated by the men and give them many happy hours when they are off duty.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "The consensus of opinion was that he was innocent."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "finite"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Statue, retinue, menu.

4. What does the word "infrangible" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with "u" that means "existing everywhere at the same time"?

ANSWERS

1. Of opinion is redundant. Consensus means agreement in matters of opinion. Say, "The consensus was that he was innocent." 2. Pronounce finite, both f's as in lie, accent first syllable. 3. Menu. 4. Not capable of being broken or separated into parts. "They thought that atoms were infrangible." 5. Ubiquitous.

SHORTAGE OF DUCKS

(From Brandon Daily Sun)

Four factors are behind the scarcity of ducks in western Canada, drought, crops and magpies, jackfish and fire. These account for 70 per cent of the loss of bird life. Other causes of crop losses are floods, minor predators such as skunks, ground squirrels, etc., and the predictions of natives. Botulism or duck disease takes both young and old indiscriminately. Some predators (such as certain hawks) destroy adult birds. Approximately 70 per cent of the potential duck crop is lost each year, due to the natural and man-made causes, before the hunter fires a shot. Half of this terrific loss can be eliminated by proper wildlife management—chiefly on the Canadian breeding grounds. But if only 15 per cent is prevented, this will approximately equal the toll taken by hunters; and therefore, hunting may be perpetuated without reducing the duck population. Surely, these figures prove that it is folly to merely consider a closed season. Surely it is more sensible to endeavor to cut down these natural and man-made losses while, at the same time, increasing production by restoring the duck factory.

CHAMPIONS OF CIVILIZATION

From Christian Science Monitor

Today Britain fights alone. And this struggle over London is the complete symbol of the largely unseen struggle of civilization against barbarism today. Every pilot of the Royal Air Force, every barge at the Thames docks, every humble householder in the East End is a champion of world culture and Christianity. After all the hairsplitting over the war's causes, all the totalitarians' twisted propaganda, all weighing of past mistakes, that is the simple fact.

FOOD IN ENGLAND

A cousin of F. W. Tull of Courtenay, B.C., living near London, wishes to correct the impression they are short of food. She writes—

"I have just met a young Canadian airman whose people think we are short of food. In case you think the same, I want to tell you that we have plenty. Sugar, butter, cooking fats—but it is an adequate ration—and we can buy any amount of cooked meats, fish, liver, kidney, poultry, cakes, etc.—in fact, we are still living in luxury and our tables still 'groan' with good things!"

Saanich Leads House Building

Saanich municipality topped house building in Greater Victoria last week. Five permits for new dwellings were issued by the building inspector, J. G. Little.

A total of 10 permits were issued valued at $10,650.

H. Whitehouse was granted three permits, two for four-room dwellings to cost $1,600 each and to be constructed on Stafford Street, and the third for a four-room dwelling to be constructed on Elliston Avenue at a cost of $1,800.

W. A. Dempsey secured a permit to build a four-room dwelling on Cadillac Avenue at a cost of $1,600, and George Farmer took out a permit for a five-room house to be built on Bethune Avenue at a cost of $2,500.

Three permits were issued in Esquimalt with a total value of $1,350. One of the permits went to the Marwell Construction Company of Vancouver to build a house at the end of Esquimalt Road to cost $1,000.

Two homes only were included in the list of eight permits issued in the city during the week. Total value of work listed was $7,365.

In Oak Bay E. H. Pope received a permit for a $4,000 seven-room home at 2501 Central Avenue, and H. Cowper took out papers for a $3,000 six-room dwelling at 870 Victoria Avenue.

TOWN TOPICS

St. Mary's Men's Guild will meet next Thursday evening in the Parish Hall at 8.

Donald S. Martin was fined $40 by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in City Police Court on a charge of dangerous driving, to which he pleaded guilty. Constable John Mason said he paced Martin along Government Street from Broughton to Belleville Streets at 60 miles an hour at 12:05 last night.

Men of the navy, army and air force and their lady friends are invited to an entertainment and social tomorrow evening at 8:30 at Knights of Columbia Canadian War Services hut at the Queen of Peace Church, Old Esquimalt Road. Mrs. E. W. Hamer has sent three sets of table tennis racquets to the hut.

Wednesday evening's concert at the Three Services Canteen, Broad Street, will be given under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Art Society, and Mrs. R. D. McCaw is arranging the program. The Shrine Band was to have played that night, but has postponed its concert till a later date.

The First Cathedral Scout troop meeting at troop headquarters was well attended. The meeting was opened by duty patrol leader B. Lupton, and inspection was held. A game of knot tag was played. Instruction in first aid was given. Compass, signaling and knotting were taught. District commissioner Major Wise visited the troop during the evening. J. McDonald was presented with the first aid artist's and carpenter's badges. The troop will hold a bun feed at next week's meeting. Scouts who were not present are requested to get in touch with their patrol leaders to find out what food they should take. The Eagle patrol will be on duty at the next meeting.

The Monterey Parent-Teacher Association will meet in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening at 8. Former members are urged to attend and a special invitation is extended to parents who have moved into the district since last term. Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, 1149 Oliver, is president; Mrs. L. R. Harper, 989 Victoria Avenue, is secretary. Mrs. Paul McClung, formerly of Texas, will speak on matters of general interest as well as P.T.A. work in that state. Miss Marie Vowles, violinist, will play. General business and the agenda for the coming season will be discussed. Owing to the pressure of other duties Mrs. Mulholland has been forced to resign the office of treasurer, and an election will be necessary to fill that office.

CLUB SPEAKERS

T. C. Rogers, former district administrator of the Mexican Eagle Oil Company, will address the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel Thursday.

Mr. Rogers was in with the company when the oil industry was confiscated by the Mexican government. He will speak on his work in the oil industry. At the Kiwanis Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel tomorrow, Mrs. D. G. Downes of Victoria will speak on "The Nazi Invasion of Denmark." Mrs. Downes recently returned to the city from Denmark.

Chrysanthemum Show Will Aid Red Cross

The first chrysanthemum show of the season will be staged by the Victoria Horticultural Society on Saturday afternoon and evening next at the Crystal Garden.

As outdoor chrysanthemums are just now at their best, it is anticipated this will be one of the best shows yet staged by the society. Net proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

A.Y.P.A. COUNCIL

The Victoria and District Local Council of the A.Y.P.A. will hold their annual installation service in St. John's Church this evening at 8:30. The service will be followed by a rally in the church assembly hall, under the direction of St. John's branch.

Plan Silver Tea at Mrs. John Hart's

The president of St. Joseph's Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. Llewellyn Jones, announces that plans are advancing for the silver tea to be held at the home of Mrs. John Hart, 1961 Fairfield Road, on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6. Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. Reed Page Clark, Mrs. F. J. Sehl, past president, and Mrs. F. I. Doherty, vice-president, will preside at tea table, and assisting in serving will be Mrs. W. J. Holman, Mrs. W. Brady, Mrs. R. N. Dickinson, Mrs. P. Criddle, Mrs. Burnley Hall, and Mrs. Bryant. At the receipt of customers will be Mrs. J. S. Atkins and Mrs. Blair-Reid.

The beautiful doll, a replica of Sonja Heine, kindly donated for the bazaar by Mrs. Alex McDermott, will be on display at the tea. A musical program has been arranged, and the following artists will take part: Mrs. T. H. Johns, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, songs, accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn; Miss Julia Kent-Jones, violinist, accompanied by Miss Doreen Briggs, who will also contribute piano solos; Mrs. J. S. Bullock, songs and pianoforte.

Is Bride By Proxy Of R.A.F. Pilot

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP)—While her groom possibly was fighting German air invaders thousands of miles away, Betty-Karlene Allen, 23, of Portland, became the bride today of Royal Air Force Pilot Sidney Ernest Andrews, 27, of Manchester, England.

In this quiet Columbia river community, Miss Allen promised, through a proxy, to "love, honor and obey" the British airman in a ceremony performed by Superior Judge Carl W. Hall at his home.

Miss Allen chose to employ this unusual ceremony to unite herself legally to Andrews rather than to await cessation of hostilities or until transportation to England could be arranged, she said.

As the ceremony is legal as a civil contract, Judge Hall explained, a civil ceremony was used. In asking responses from the proxy, Judge Hall said: "Do you, Horace I. Parzibox, as proxy for Sidney Ernest Andrews, etc.?"

Nearly 50 persons, including friends of the couple and newspapermen, crowded into the living room of Judge Hall's home to witness the ceremony. Immediately after its completion, Parzibox kissed Mrs. Andrews twice, once for the bridegroom and once for himself, he explained.

Mrs. Andrews said she would return to Portland to resume her work with a newspaper until transportation to England can be arranged.

Her romance with the Englishman began in England before the war. Happy that love had found a way to circumvent obstacles placed by war and legal technicalities, the new bride confessed that she was worried over the safety of her husband. She listened eagerly to news dispatches that told of new German raids over the area that Andrews might at that moment have been defending.

Soldiers Entertained At Tea and Drive

Fifty-nine soldiers from Work Point Barracks were the guests of the Y-Owenca Club yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. Prior to the tea hour the entire party enjoyed a drive through the co-operation of Mrs. John Baxter and members of Chapter I of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

Following the tea hour, group singing, led by Miss Charlotte Crawford, proved very popular. Special musical numbers were contributed by Dr. and Mrs. Harry Johns and Miss Byrdie Eilers. For the vocal solos and duets, accompanists were Mrs. C. Warn and Mrs. Eilers. Miss Dorothy Dickson, club president, presided during the afternoon.

Following the program, which concluded at 7 o'clock, many of the men remained for an informal time, which included table games and more music around the piano. The rooms were suitably decorated with late summer blooms supplied through the kindness of Mrs. Walter Walker and Mrs. A. H. Nunn.

Red Cross Notes

NOTHING FOR GERMANS

The Fifth Column is saying that Red Cross "comforts" are being given to German prisoners interned in camps in this country. The truth is Red Cross is not spending a cent of their own funds for these prisoners. It is not necessary to do so, as the Canadian government is providing adequately for their food, clothing, medical and dental attention. Extra delicacies or comforts are supplied from German Red Cross sources, or by friends of the prisoners. Should a prisoner become seriously ill he is treated as a patient in one of our military hospitals (under international law), and receives the same attention as any other soldier in the ward.

In honor of Miss Daisy Evans, whose marriage will take place on October 1, Mrs. J. Abbott and Mrs. Harold Shopland were joint hostesses at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Mount, Rainbow Road, Ganges, on Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower. About 40 guests were present. The rooms were prettily decorated with mauve and yellow Michaelmas daisies, the decorations of the miniature house, which contained the many useful gifts, being mauve and yellow streamers hung from a bell in the centre of the ceiling to the corners of the table. On arrival, the guest of honor was presented with a corsage of pink roses. Refreshments were served and a pleasant time enjoyed.

Members of the Pasa-Time Bridge Club met at the home of Miss Vera Hodgson, 3287 Glasgow Avenue on Friday evening. Bridge was played, the winners being Mrs. B. Huot and Miss Sue Good. Miss Sheila Baines, who was celebrating her 21st birthday, received many lovely gifts. The supper table was covered with a Maderia cloth, centred with a silver vase of mauve asters and yellow daisies, on a mirror base. The honored guest cut a prettily decorated cake, which contained many novelties. Those present included Mesdames P. E. Beaven, J. H. Baines, B. Huot, and J. C. Hodgson, and the Misses Theresa Wragg, Sheila Baines, Edith Hodgson, Grace Stevenson, Sue Good, Mary Edie, Vera Hodgson and Phyllis Biles.

A bathroom shower was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Crocker in honor of Miss Patricia Locke, whose wedding to Mr. William Levy will take place tonight. The fireplace was banked with flowers and centred with a large silver horseshoe from which pastel streamers led to the many beautiful gifts arranged before it. Corsages of roses were presented to Miss Patricia Locke, Mrs. A. Locke and Mrs. W. Levy. Following the presentation of the gifts to Miss Locke, games were played and a buffet supper was served. The invited guests were: Mesdames W. Levy, A. Locke, R. S. Dalby, C. F. Banfield, T. Noble, C. Holman, J. Froud, G. Smith, D. Wakeham, H. Flinn, G. Dalby, A. Flucke, McIntyre and the Misses Agnes Brookman, Jean Scott, Pat Dalby, Edith and Myra Hodgson, Betty Ballantyne and Iris Scott.

Matheson, New Westminster; Miss Doris H. Hancock, Kirkland, Wash.; Miss Kay Waddell, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McRae, Vancouver; Mrs. L. E. Fisher, Victoria.

Miss Ruby Underwood, who is to be married shortly to Mr. Frank Edwards, was the guest of honor at a shower given on Friday evening by the traffic department of the B.C. Telephone Co. On entering the recreation room the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of roses and then was escorted to a seat of honor beside a miniature bungalow, which contained the pretty gifts. Tall wicker flower stands of Michaelmas daisies and goldenrod stood on either side of the guest of honor's chair. The presentation of a beautiful mantel clock was made by Miss E. R. Walker on behalf of the local and long-distance staffs. Refreshments were served in the dining room, the tables arranged with mauve and pink asters in crystal vases and lighted by pink tapers. The guests were: Mesdames E. Birt, K. Cunningham, D. Davidson, R. Higgins, D. Parfitt, C. Yeomans, G. Hall, P. Silburn, N. Chisholm, W. Saunders, B. Wilkerson, G. Elliott, D. Rush, J. Scott, A. Rainbow Tea to Aid Red Cross Work

Final arrangements were made Saturday evening at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary United-Commercial Travelers, for a "Rainbow Tea" to be held Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5.30 at the home of Mrs. Harold Elworthy, 914 St. Charles Street, in aid of the Red Cross.

A half-hour musical program will include Mrs. W. S. (Peggy) Moore, soprano, Mrs. Jamie Cameron, accompanist, Joyce Bernman, violinist, Joan Gonnason, pianist and Ilace Roskelley, elocutionist.

Home cooking will be sold from an attractively-decorated table under the able supervision of Mrs. Julia Bernstein. Mrs. McDermott has offered her services and anyone wishing to enquire into the future will have the opportunity of consulting her. A door prize will be drawn from the "Pot of Gold." Mrs. Albert James, convener, reported all committees have worked hard to ensure a pleasant afternoon for everyone.

Weddings

SMALL—BROOKS

Pink gladioli, white chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies lent a seasonal background to the pretty ceremony performed by Rev. J. R. Fife, B.A., in Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday evening at 8.30, uniting in marriage Dorothy, Annie, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brooks, 1904 Davie Street, and Mr. Lester Earle Small, only son of Mrs. Hazel Small, 735 Roderick Street. Mr. Stanley Bulley played the wedding music.

Entering the cathedral with her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length frock of white lace over taffeta, with long sleeves coming to a point over the hands, the bodice fastened with self-covered buttons. The full skirt extended into a brief train. Her fingerling veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of matching lace, with clusters of orange blossoms at either side, and she also wore a three-strand necklace of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Boyd in peach chiffon and Miss Kate Sparrowhawk in turquoise blue chiffon, both frocks being made by long, full skirts and matching jackets. Their hair was of mohair, the contrasting colors were trimmed with peach and blue flowers, and they carried sheaves of carnations and chrysanthemums. Little Joan Williams of Deerholme, niece of the bride, was a dainty flower girl, wearing a long frock of pale green taffeta and a coronet of peach velvet trimmed with pastel flowers. She carried a Colonial posy. Mr. Donald Galey was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Jack Smirl and Mr. Harry Roberts.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, during which the bridal couple stood before a fireplace between baskets of the same flowers. Mrs. Brooks wore a dress of soldier blue crepe trimmed with gold and blue accessories, and Mrs. Small was in blue silk with black accessories, and they both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

The three-tiered cake centred the supper table, which was decorated with silver vases of pink roses and lighted with white tapers. Following a honeymoon on the mainland, for which the bride left in a teal blue coat trimmed with grey squirrel, and a navy blue dress and accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Small will make their home in Victoria.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Williams and family, Deerholme, V.I.; Mrs. David Seefeldt and son, Mrs. Van Geeson Hill and Mrs. W. Ashton, all of Seattle.

HOGG—BARNES

At a pretty ceremony performed in the presence of a large congregation at the Oaklands Gospel Hall on Saturday evening, Mr. H. L. Hopkins read the marriage rites for Irene Nellie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Barnes, 355 Richmond Avenue, and Mr. Andrew Hogg, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Hogg, Vancouver. Yellow and white chrysanthemums were banked on the windows and the service was performed between standard baskets of similar blooms against a trellis work of greenery and flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in oyster-white satin, with long train, the bodice having a sweetheart neckline and Juliet sleeves. Her three-tier veil of illusion in oyster-white hung from a head dress of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of cream roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Marjorie Barnes, the bride's sister, in yellow triple sheer over taffeta, and Miss Doreen Jealousie, their cousin, in Nile green-triple sheer over taffeta, were bridesmaids. Both wore lace Juliet caps trimmed with rosebuds and carried sheaves of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. Robert Baker of Vancouver was best man and ushers included Mr. Lloyd Fletcher, Vancouver, and Mr. David Stewart, Victoria. Mr. James Young of Vancouver was at the organ, and Miss Ora Jealousie sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The reception was held at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, where about 120 guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Hogg. Mrs. Barnes was gowned in harvest wine sheer crepe, with black accessories, and her flowers were gardenias, while Mrs. Hogg was handsomely gowned in wine cut velvet with navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses.

A sit-down supper was served and the bridal table was arranged with yellow and white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers, centred with the three-tiered cake. Mr. Ralph Bagshaw of Vancouver proposed the toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogg left for a honeymoon on the mainland before taking up residence in Vancouver, the bride traveling in a dressmaker suit of moss green trimmed with brown squirrel, a matching feather hat and veil, and brown accessories.

BALL—EFFA

In the vestry of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Saturday evening at 8.30, Rev. J. L. W. McLean united in marriage Freda Lorna, youngest daughter of Mrs. S. Deckert and the late Mr. F. Effa, of Yorkton, Sask., and Mr. Edward Charles Ball, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ball, 76 Menzies Street.

The bride wore a blue tailored suit with black and white accessories and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and swainsons. Miss Doris Huffman was bridesmaid in a black suit and hat, with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and Mr. Douglas Bourne was best man.

The reception was held in the James Bay Club hall, during which the bridal party stood under a pink and white arch and bell between baskets of gladioli in a setting of a variety of autumn flowers. Silver holders held lighted white tapers on the supper table on which was the wedding cake surrounded by folds of pink tulle. Mrs. Ball welcomed the guests in a navy blue redingote ensemble with black accessories, assisted by Mrs. Martha Effa, sister of the bride, in a black dress and hat. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Ball will make their home at 230 Robertson Street.

34 Young Evacuees Come to B.C.

MONTREAL (CP)—A group of 34 children from the battered London area were on their way across the continent today, speeding toward wartime homes in British Columbia. They arrived here from an east coast Canadian port, where they disembarked Friday.

The children, ranging in age from 6 to 13 years, were too busy stowing away food in the station restaurant here to talk about their trip. They consumed glasses of fruit juice, scrambled eggs and ice cream. Then they topped it off with rosy Canadian apples.

Between bites at a turnip-hazed apple, eight-year-old Derek Jones of Middlesex said he liked Canada, but the sight of the apple left him inarticulate.

Dark-eyed Sheila Hall of Harrow, whose mother is a native of Switzerland, talked of the meals she anticipated in Canada. "We will have Swiss and continental dinners in Canada, won't we?" she asked. "That dinner we had tonight was a French dinner, wasn't it?"

Each child wears a tag bearing his or her name. They arrived here under the plan sponsored by the British government.

Engagements

WHITE—COLEMAN

The engagement is announced of Mary, only daughter of Mr. A. J. Coleman and the late Mrs. Coleman, to Herbert M. White, R.C.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White, Port Alberni. The wedding will take place on Saturday, September 28, at 8, at St. Mark's Anglican Church.

SPENCE—SAUNDERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Saunders, Edgeware Road, announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Dorothy Hylda, to Mr. Russell A. Spence, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Spence, Glassville, N.B. The wedding will take place early in October.

HART—BINNS

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Binns of Victoria announce the engagement of their only daughter, Miss Lillian Joy Binns of New Westminster, to Mr. Stanley Ernest Hart, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hart of Vancouver. The wedding will take place early in October.

The Cathedral sewing circle is a new branch of work formed in connection with the Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral for the purpose of making and distributing garments. To augment the funds for the purchase of supplies, a silver tea will be held in the Memorial Hall Friday next, from 3 to 5 o'clock. The finished articles on hand will be displayed during the afternoon.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 at the Nurses' Home.

The blue fruited honeysuckle found in New Hampshire is being tested to see how it will thrive under cultivation.

Found Britain's War Spirit Marvellous

Tribute to the marvellous spirit of wartime Britain was paid by Dr. Bastow Hudson in her ab-sorbingly interesting talk at the opening meeting of the University Women's Club, held on Saturday afternoon at Victoria College. Mrs. Hazel Rodson, the president, was in the chair, and a large attendance presaged well for an active season.

Dr. Hudson, in addition to giving a vivid picture of England as she saw it as recently as August, also reviewed the happenings at the eighth conference of the International Federation of University Women, which Dr. Hudson attended in Stockholm last year, and the 1940 triennial conference of the Canadian Federation of University Women which she attended in Calgary while on her way across Canada last month.

Correspondence read by Mrs.
Edna Godson, the secretary, brought to light that some of the university women of Victoria as well as elsewhere in Canada had volunteered to receive children of university women in England who might wish to come to Canada. It was stated that these children would have to come under the regulation government scheme.

Miss Ella Cameron gave a report of the loan committee. Miss Patricia Hamilton Smith reviewed the plans for fall and winter activities, as follows:

Wednesday, October 16, meeting at 8 p.m. at the home of Miss
M. Aylard, 625 Elliott Street, when a series of discussions on present-day social and economic trends will take place followed by musical program; Tuesday, November 5, 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. Bastow Hudson, 1070 Amphion Street, when the speaker will be Dr. Julia Matouskova;
Wednesday, December 11, Spencer's tea-room, lantern lecture with Christmas music.

The president reported that the following committees had been appointed: Program, Miss Patricia Hamilton Smith (convenor),
Dr. Olga Jardine, Mrs. Allan
Peebles, Dr. Irene Hudson, Miss Muriel Aylard; education and loan, Miss Ella Cameron, Miss Olga Jardine; Miss Dorothy Cruckshanks; refreshments, Dr.
Olga Jardine; Mrs. H. L. Smith was appointed local representative to the Canadian Federation in succession to Dr. Jardine.

After the formal part of the program yesterday tea was served, Mrs. H. E. Young and Mrs. Harry Smith presiding at the flower-centred tea table.

Amputation Group To Hold Annual Ball

The annual ball of the Amputations' Association of the Great War will again be held at the Empress Hotel on Friday, November 8, next. The augmented orchestra under the direction of
Wm. Tickle will furnish music appropriate to the occasion.

The net-proceeds received from the sale of tickets will be entirely devoted to the war services which are being carried out by the Victoria branch, and in accordance with the past practice all branches of the Army, the Navy and Air Forces, will be represented and a generous support of the general public is looked for.

This ball was first organized as an Armistice ball as related to the last Great War. The view of the present war, it is felt that no good purpose could be served by abandoning this event, but that, it being the desire of men who saw service in the last Great War, to keep alive the spirit and enthusiasm of all during the present stress, and at the same time to use whatever financial benefits that might accrue, for the benefit of those who may suffer as a result in the present struggle. Every effort will be made to make of it a great success.

MOST PRECIOUS STONE

The emerald is the most precious of all stones. They may be even more valuable than dia-

such.

Langford

The opening meeting of Langford-Colwood Anglican Young People's Association was held last Thursday evening in the Legion Hall. President David Mc-Lean gave the annual report of the local council. Announcement was made by the secretary, Miss Ethel Brown, of the annual provincial conference to be held at Chilliwack, October 12-14.

Under the auspices of the Esquimalt Dramatic Club a tea and sale of work will be held at the home of Mrs. William Alsdorf, Island Highway October 5.

A card party was held at the home of Mrs. M. Fagan, Atkins Road, Langford, last week under the auspices of the Langford subdivision of the Catholic Women's League. Winners at bridge were Mrs. H. Lineham and J. Kissinger, with Mrs. Charlebois and E.
C. Parker obtaining second prizes.
Five hundred prizes went to Mrs.
T. A. Scafe and E. Clevette with Mrs. H. A. Brain and Monsignor
Baker, second.

MR. ST. J. WAS

A WARM-WEATHER OFFENDER

HE was the town's most successful young businessman—a likeable, patriotic citizen. But Mr. St. J. never seemed to be able to get close to anybody... never understood why.

He failed to realize that we have to perspire to live—just as we must breathe. In warm, sticky weather, we perspire more—from a pint to three pints a day, even when we are sitting still. Left on the body, this sweat goes stale—decomposes. Then YOU have "B.O."

Careful people check "B.O." before it starts with Lifebuoy.
Lifebuoy contains an exclusive deodorizing ingredient not found in any other leading toilet soap. Used in your daily bath, Lifebuoy stops "B.O."—its purifying lather washes away stale perspiration deposits. This season—play safe—with Lifebuoy.

ABOUT
B.O.

The adult skin has 2 to 3 million sweat glands which act as a cooling system, giving off from 1 to 3 pints of perspiration daily—even when we are sitting still. If perspiration stopped, we would die from hyperpyrexia (heat stroke).
Because much of the water in perspiration evaporates, we do not see or feel it.
Summer heat, nervous excitement, heavy clothes or warm rooms quickly decompose this sweat deposit—turn it stale—cause offensive "B.O." (Body Odor).

Social and Personal

Miss Daisy Strood and Mr. Don Stevens, who are to be married early next month, were guests of honour at the home of the groom-elect's sister, Mrs. J. F. Murrant, Cadillac Avenue, when she entertained with a kitchen shower recently. Autumn flowers were arranged throughout the rooms.
On their arrival little Shirley Jean and Glenn Murrant, dressed as miniature bride and groom, gave pretty corsages to their Uncle Don and future Aunt Daisy.
The many useful gifts were presented in a prettily-decorated basket in shades of rose and yellow. The winners of the games were Mrs. Hardwick, Miss Dolly
Carey and Lily Tyson. A buffet supper was served from a lace-covered table, centred with a bowl of rose and cream chrysanthemums, flanked by rose tapers in silver scones. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. T. Stark, Mr.

Miss Patricia Locke. The guest of honor was presented with a bouquet of pink and white ecarnations, while the gifts were attached to streamers.

METROPOLITAN Y.P.S.

The opening meeting of the Metropolitan Young People's Society was held Tuesday night.
Kenneth Priestly, president, welcomed the visitors and members.
Len Cannon was in charge of the games, which were on the theme of a sham battle. A balloon barrage was used for decoration.
The group was divided into two teams, "Battleships" and "Airplanes," to take part in the contests. Refreshments were served by Olive Chisholm, Laura Singleton and Margaret Smith.
At next week's meeting Miss Mary Loudon, president of the United Young Peoples' Council, will report on the Calgary conference; Leonard Cannon will describe the leadership training school, and Mrs. J. Rodger will report on the young people's summer camp.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

NOTES FROM the box lacrosse front: When at full strength the James Bay are no doubt the best club in the city, as demonstrated to the large crowd Friday night. . . . Big margin between the Bays and Jokers is the former have a better-balanced squad. . . . Jokers, with the two Patricks and Andrews on the floor, are tough. . . . No reserve strength for his second line is manager Gus Munro's biggest problem.

Lynn Patrick had the toughest night of his short box lacrosse career Friday. . . . Four times the big boy was clear through, only to have goalie Art McKim block his shots. . . . At the finish the New York Rangers' hockey star was pretty disgusted with himself. . . . Brother Muzz has found a new way to score goals. . . . After breaking through he takes no chances of having his shots blocked. . . . He just drops the ball into net over the top of the goal-keeper. . . . The younger Patrick has a tremendous reach and it gives him a distinct edge. . . . Few more games and the 215-pounder would develop into a good player. . . . Weak stick-handling is his biggest handicap.

Majority of the fans fail to appreciate the habit of some of the Bay players in laying on the floor after being brought down a little extra heavy. . . . Even when the players are injured they get little sympathy from the crowd which is suspicious. . . . Doug Gray and his little trick of getting to some player a penalty has a lot to do with the feeling among the fans.

Victoria players still work too hard. . . . They do a lot of unnecessary running around the floor instead of making the ball do the work. . . . The local boys have also failed to learn you can't guard a man well from behind. . . . They should have watched the mainland stars when they played here in the exhibition tilts. . . . They don't watch the play coming down the floor and check the men from the front with their backs to the opposing goal. . . . It is much more effective and does not allow an opponent to break around you.

Seen and heard at the Willows track: Favorites have generally taken a beating at the current meeting. . . . Percentage will no doubt be far below the average. . . . Worth the price of admission (Turn to Page 10, Col. 1)

Racing history was established at the Willows track on Saturday afternoon when three horses finished in a dead heat to win the first race. It was the first time such a case was recorded on any track in North America. In the above picture, snapped by the track photographer, the three bang-tails are seen just before they hit the wire nose and nose. Nearest the camera is Margery Daw with the veteran Emil Spoori up. In the centre is Saucy Maid with Alex Haller in the saddle while closest to the rail is My Debut with R. Warren up.

Athletes Leave After Vacations

Victoria lost two more of her best-known athletes who have been vacationing at home during the summer months, over the week-end. They are Lynn Patrick and George "Porky" Andrews. Lynn left the city last night for Winnipeg where he will go to training October 2 with the New York Rangers major hockey team. He will spend a few days with his wife and young son who are in Winnipeg, before getting down to hard work in preparing for the opening of the hockey season. The Rangers will open the season against Maple Leafs in Toronto on November 2.

LYNN PATRICK While in the city this summer, Lynn tried his hand at a new game, box lacrosse, and made quite a name for himself playing on the defence of the Jokers' team. His absence will be felt the fourth game of the city championship series tonight. Patrick spent much of his time on the local golf courses in addition to his lacrosse activities.

BACK TO VARSITY "Porky" Andrews, basketball player and all-around athlete, boarded the Seattle boat Saturday on his way back to the University of Oregon for his senior year. "Porky" also tried his hand at box lacrosse while in town this summer and proved a big strength to the Jokers' team as rover.

GEORGE (PORKY) ANDREWS Earlier in the summer Andrews turned out for Cameron Lumber Company softball team and was one of the outstanding batters and fly snappers in the senior league. He was a popular figure at Cordova Bay, where he camped and spent much of his time boating and canoeing.

BADMINTON MEETING Annual meeting of the Victoria Badminton Club will be held tonight at 8 at 1110 Government Street. All last season's players and others are invited to attend.

Canadian Football

Hanson Will Return

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fritz Hanson, blond flash of the gridiron, will don the cleats again and return to action with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, officials of the club announced last night. Hanson, who thrilled thousands of sports fans from Calgary to Ottawa with his lightning rushes, decided to come out of retirement because he "just couldn't resist the lure of the game."

The slight, fair-haired speedster had announced his retirement from the football wars at the start of the season so he could devote all his time to business. Hanson found retirement was not as easy as it had seemed earlier this fall. Night after night he wandered to the park to watch his old teammates at their workouts.

Saturday he told officials of the club that he would come out again if he could use him. Tonight he will be back in his old uniform when Bombers meet the powerful Concordia College team from the United States in an exhibition game here.

CALGARY (CP)—Unleashing a mighty ground attack that set Regina Roughriders behind the eight ball in the first five minutes of play, Larry Haynes' Calgary Bronks galloped back into sole possession of the western Canada football conference leadership with a 17 to 3 decision over Coach Dean Griffith's gallant Riders at Mewata Stadium Saturday night.

Playing in perfect weather conditions in the floodlit stadium the Bronks did as they pleased while a crowd of 4,000 cheered them on. They scored two touchdowns before Regina had handled the ball four times, conceded one field goal to giant Toar Springstein and then came back to score a rouge and another try in the dying minutes of play.

Jimmy Gilkes, Joe Turner and George Alexander gathered in the Calgary touchdowns. Paul Rowe converted the second for an extra point and in the last quarter Alexander lifted a high punt for a rouge, playing coach Haynes going down fast for the tackle.

It was in the opening minutes that Bronks showed their power. After that they settled down to an even battle, taking few chances against the fiery Roughriders.

Burrards Take Boxla Playoff

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Burrard Blue Bombers captured the British Columbia senior box lacrosse championship here Saturday night, beating the West Kootenay champion Rossland Redmen 16 to 11 to sweep the two-game, total goal series, 41 to 15. Burrards won the first game Thursday, 25 to 4.

The victory qualified the Bombers to go east in an attempt to retain for British Columbia the Canadian lacrosse championship and the Mann Cup won last year by the New Westminster Adanacs, who went down in the Inter-city League playoffs this year.

Before arriving in Toronto, where the Dominion finals will be played this year, Burrards have two obstacles to overcome. First stop is Winnipeg, where they will play a sudden death game with the Manitoba representatives. The winner will go on to Montreal to meet Indians in a best-of-three semi-final series.

The Canadian finals at Toronto will be a best-of-five series starting October 7 against the winner of the St. Catharines-Brampton series.

The Blue Bombers broke the Rossland moral with a 25 to 4 trouncing in the first game here Thursday, but despite that facing the redmen surprisingly put up a more competitive showing in the second and final game.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Amateur Basketball Association voted that a recommendation be sent to the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association in Montreal urging the reinstatement of Victoria Dominos at the annual meeting of the provincial body here Saturday night.

J. L. Polley, secretary of the British Columbia Association, said that, if reinstated, the Dominos would probably play in the Victoria and District League, but as a separate unit, handling all their own finances. Outside games might be arranged, he said, with permission of the provincial body. The Dominos were dropped by the Canadian body last year because they scheduled outside games without permission of the provincial group.

Pitt Meadows in Lacrosse Victory

NANAIMO (CP)—Pitt Meadows, Fraser Valley and lower mainland champions, Saturday night gained the right to play Kamloops Klippers for the British Columbia intermediate box lacrosse championship by winning a two-game total goal semifinal series 30 to 22 from Nanaimo Spencer Indians.

The Valley champions won the first game 20 to 11 Thursday but lost a closely-contested match 11 to 10 Saturday night. They open a best-of-three series with Kamloops at that city for the provincial title tonight.

Jokers Weakened For Game Tonight

It'll be a sad-looking Jokers team which goes up against James Bay in the fourth and most likely final game of the senior box lacrosse championship series at the Sports Centre tonight at 8.45.

Coach Gus Munro has lost two of his star players and a third is not in any condition to take part in the struggle.

Star defenceman Lynn Patrick left town last night for Winnipeg to start training for the major hockey season as a member of the New York Rangers, and "Porky" Andrews, fast-fingered rover of the team, left Saturday to continue studies at the University of Oregon.

Andy Ovcharick, tricky and hardworking forward of the Jokers, is suffering from a deep gash in his left arm. He played the last game with his arm strapped but was little use to the team.

The series stands at 2 to 1 in favor of the defending champions, James Bay. If the Bays win tonight's game the 1940 box lacrosse will be finished.

Jokers' fighting spirit has been a highlight of the season's play, but with such important players missing from the line, they don't stand much chance, especially if Bays show the form they did in the last game, which they won 21 to 8.

A preliminary game will be played at 7.

Feller Hurls 27th Victory Of Season

Sunday's Scores AMERICAN LEAGUE Cleveland 10, Detroit 5. New York 6, Boston 3. Washington 5-5, Philadelphia 4-2. Chicago 10, St. Louis 0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE New York 3-7, Boston 4-3. Brooklyn 10-5, Philadelphia 2-2. St. Louis 8-2, Chicago 1-1. Cincinnati 2-1, Pittsburgh 1-8.

COAST LEAGUE Seattle 3, Oakland 1. Los Angeles 1-8, San Diego 3-0. Cleveland yesterday smashed out a 10 to 5 victory in the third game of their series at Detroit to make the American League race a three-way scramble again.

And now, with everybody on edge, they all take the day off. Bobby Feller hurls his 27th win of the season for Cleveland.

Resuming play tomorrow, the Tigers have a two-game series with Chicago White Sox and the Indians meet the St. Louis Browns in a pair, all of which means that the pennant chase probably will not be decided until that three-game series starting next Friday between the Tigers and the Indians at Cleveland.

The New York Yanks kept within mathematical shouting distance of the leaders by trouncing Boston Red Sox, 6 to 3. In the other games Washington scored a pair of victories over the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 4 and 5 to 2, and the White Sox won a 10 to 6 victory over St. Louis Browns.

In the National League the champion Cincinnati Reds scored a 2 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first game but Johnny Vander Meer's wildness cost them the second game 8 to 1.

Brooklyn Dodgers scored a twin victory over the Phillies 10 to 2 and 5 to 2.

Boston Bees and New York Giants split their doubleheader, the Bees winning the first game 4 to 3 but dropping the nightcap (Turn to Page 10, Col. 2)

Junior Boxla Teams Battle

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Ontario junior all-stars—the east's bid for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship this year—came to town yesterday to meet the British Columbia all-stars in a best-of-five series starting tonight for possession of the Minto Cup.

The boys were a bit train-weary from their long jaunt. But plan a stiff workout before going into the first game. Coach Frank Bain said the Ontario squad, used to playing on a dirt floor, may find a bit of trouble on the wooden floor here. As for the outcome, Bain gave the Ontarians a 50-50 chance of victory.

SELECT B.C. TEAM

A selection committee of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association yesterday chose a strong team of British Columbia's best junior lacrosse players to meet Ontario all-stars.

Victoria and most lower mainland teams were given representation on the chosen team of 20 players. New Westminster had the biggest representation, 10 Royal City players making the team.

The team follows—First string: Kingsley Creek, goal, Gordon Arrell, David Eastman, Sam Katabatawa, William McCall, George Wood, all of New Westminster; George Nesbitt, Burnaby; Thomas Moody and James Lang, Richmond; William McClure, Vancouver, and Eric Lea and William McGaghey of Victoria. Dave Yeaton of Burnaby was chosen spare goalie. Reserve players: Clifford Aldrich, George Wilson, William Riddell, Alexander Shaw, all of New Westminster; William Simpson, Richmond and Reginald Phillips, Vancouver.

No Privileges For Eddie Shore

NEW YORK (CP)—The International-American Hockey League decided at a meeting yesterday that Eddie Shore will be given no special privileges this season as part owner and player with Springfield Indians while under contract to play as well for New York Americans of the National Hockey League.

Directors decided to drop the "international" from the circuit's name because it is made up now entirely of American clubs.

Shore purchased the Springfield Club of the American League last season, and when he and Boston Bruins officials fell out over his desire to play at least part time with the Indians, was traded to the Americans.

Hereafter, the league decided Shore will be subject to the rule that a major-league player may be sent to a minor-league club and recalled three times. He may be sent down a fourth time, but not recalled again.

COAST LEAGUE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A seventh and deciding game is on tap for tonight between Los Angeles and San Diego to decide which will meet Seattle in the finals of the Coast Baseball League Shognessy playoffs.

While Seattle polished off Oakland, 3 to 1, at Seattle, to win their fourth out-of-seven-game series, the Angels and Padres were splitting a twin bill at San Diego to make it three games apiece.

San Diego won the opener, 3 to 1, behind Dick Newsom's even hurling, but Jess Flores, ace Los Angeles right-hander, outpitched three Padre mounds-men in hurling an 8 to 0 shutout in the final. Flores gave up only four hits while his mates blasted 11, seven of them in a busy sixth inning when seven runs crossed the platter.

At Seattle, the league champions made it four wins against only one defeat with a four-hit pitching job by Hal Turpin.

First prize of $5,000 and the President's Cup will be at stake in the finals. The second-place club will get $2,500 and the other two teams $1,250 apiece.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Final round of the International League's Governors' Cup playoffs begins at Newark tonight with the pennant winner on the sidelines.

Newark Bears eliminated Jersey City's Little Giants, in four straight games while Baltimore Orioles came through to conquer the champion Rochester Red Wings 4 to 2 after losing the first two games.

Baltimore's power hitting, which proved so effective in the Orioles' home park, broke out in the ninth inning at Rochester yesterday and overwhelmed Mike Ryba to give Orioles a 3 to 2 victory in the deciding game of the series.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Louisville Colonels, rated in preseason calculations as the team most likely to upset Kansas City as the pennant winner, still can salvage the playoff title from an otherwise rather disappointing season.

Louisville defeated Columbus for the third time in the playoff yesterday and now needs only one more decision to qualify for the final with Kansas City. The Blues eliminated Minneapolis from consideration yesterday, capturing a 6 to 0 victory, the team's fourth in six games.

The Colonels squeezed out a 7 to 6 winning margin over the Birds in their fifth contest yesterday. The teams go back to Columbus for the sixth contest tonight.

Nations Watch Far East Move

U.S. Warns Japan on Indo-China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared today that the status quo in Indo-China was being upset through duress and once again he voiced the disapproval of the United States.

"He read a formal statement at his press conference on the entrance of Japanese military forces into the French Far Eastern colony.

"Events are transpiring so rapidly in the Indo-Chinese situation that it is impossible to get a clear picture of the minute-to-minute developments," he said.

"The position of the United States in disapproval and in deprecation of such procedure has repeatedly been stated."

Mr. Hull would not discuss what measure might be taken by the government as a result of this step in Japan's southward drive.

READY FOR INTERVENTION

TOYKO (CP)—The Japanese army and navy, described in authoritative quarters as prepared to meet any "uncalled for intervention" by third powers, began a southward march into French Indo-China today.

(Great Britain as well as the U.S., informed Japan officially of their interest in maintenance of the status quo in Indo-China).

The action was described in army and navy quarters as a long stride toward a final settlement of the China war and establishment of Japan's "new order" in East Asia.

An imperial headquarters communique said Indo-China forces which had "unlawfully" resisted the occupation in a skirmish of the northern frontier—surrounded at 11 a.m. today (8 p.m. Sunday, P.S.T.). The troops were disarmed and fighting ceased, the communique said.

One clash came in the vicinity of "Donglang," on the Chinese border 120 miles northeast of Hanoi, but Yakihiro Suma, Japanese Foreign Office spokesman, labeled this a "local skirmish" and said it "was entirely due to a misunderstanding on the part of Indo-China" despite the agreement and prolonged negotiations in which Japan "manifested consistent patience and forbearance."

An army spokesman said there was a small number of Japanese dead and wounded. He asserted Indo-Chinese forces fired first when Japanese crossed the border from China during darkness, but laid the action to failure of the Indo-Chinese forces to receive proper instructions.

NISHIHARA SENT ENVOY

(Dispatches reaching Shanghai from Hainan, Indo-China, said the French and the Japanese were settling this "brief but fierce" clash amicably. These dispatches also attributed the skirmish to a misunderstanding and said the fighting ceased on the arrival of an envoy hurriedly dispatched from Hanoi by Gen. Issaku Nishihara, head of the Japanese mission negotiating the agreement.)

Suma said he believed the Donglang affair would be speedily settled locally.

The foreign office spokesman said the agreement had been reached because of the "necessity of settling the China affair. It is not based on any territorial design on Indo-China, therefore Japan has no intention of provoking Indo-China."

He declined to say whether the agreement provides for withdrawal of Japanese troops from Indo-China on the termination of the Japanese conflict with China.

NATIONS' EYES ON JAPAN'S NEWEST MOVE—As the Tokyo military government sends troops in Indo-China, attention centres on Singapore. Talk is heard that in joint defence measures, use of the Great British naval and air base at Singapore by United States forces is under discussion.

and said he was unable to make public the terms of the agreement.

TROOPS AND BASES

In Hanoi, the provisions of the agreement were reported to be:

1. Immediate landing of a "limited" number of Japanese troops at Haiphong.

2. Establishment of three Japanese air bases in Tonkin north of the Red River, including one base near Hanoi.

3. Permission for the Japanese to bring in 6,000 troops to garrison the air bases.

4. The right to maintain a "few effective" at Haiphong.

Admiral Jean Decoux, Governor-General of Indo-China, issued a proclamation calling on the population for "understanding, calmness and discipline."

The proclamation said "certain airports in Tonkin were placed at the disposal of the Japanese army as its operations require." Tonkin is opposite the Chinese provinces of Kwangsi and Yunnan.

Decoux said the agreement represented "one of the greatest marks of confidence one country can give another," and Gen. Maurice Martin, commander of the Indo-China army, termed it "the first manifestation of a durable friendship between France and Japan."

PROCLAIM MARTIAL LAW

(The British Broadcasting Corporation quoted Chungking newspapers as saying China had made all preparations for an attack from Indo-China and that martial law was proclaimed in Yunnan and Kwangsi provinces.)

The southward march took place as Anglo-Japanese relations, long tense, suddenly became more complicated with a stiff Japanese protest over arrest of six Japanese at the naval base of Singapore.

Capilano Gets P.N.W. Tourney

SEATTLE (AP)—The Pacific Northwest Golf Association Saturday advanced Mahlon B. Rucker of Spokane, from vice-president of the organization and awarded its 1942 championship tournament to the Capilano Golf and Country Club of Vancouver, B.C.

Lt. Col. Richard Bell-Irving of the Capilano Club, was elected vice-president; Warren Williams, Spokane Country Club, secretary; Lois Becwar, Manitou Club, Spokane, and John E. Goldring, Colwood Club, Victoria; directors for three-year terms.

A nominating committee named included W. H. M. Haldane, Victoria; E. E. Adams, Seattle; Lester R. Hansen, Tacoma; F. J. McKeivitt, Spokane, and Paul P. Farrens, Portland.

The association meeting here drew delegates from Portland, Spokane, Vancouver, Victoria, Olympia and Seattle.

A motion was unanimously adopted favoring establishment of a nation-wide, uniform system of handicapping contestants.

WILL ADMITTED

The contested will of the late Mrs. L. L. Hawkins was declared valid and ready for admission for probate in a Supreme Court judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson on file in the registry today.

Validity of the will was tested by T. W. C. Hawkins on certain omissions and alterations made to the body of the will. Counsel for Mr. Hawkins alleged the alterations and omissions were made after the execution of the will.

Norma M. Carlson and W. N. Pendray were successful in their contention the alterations and omissions were on the document when it was executed.

"I find on the evidence the will was properly executed and is valid," Mr. Justice Robertson's judgment said in part.

"I think the inference I should draw is that the alterations and omissions were made prior to the execution of the will and I so find. The will will be admitted to probate as it stands," he concluded.

Parties were given the right to speak to costs.

The Leadership Training Committee of the Victoria and Lower Island Y.P. Union will meet to night at 7.30 at the Y.W.C.A.

NO ENDORSERS NEEDED

Read how you can borrow $100 on your own signature if you can pay back $7.78 a month — No need to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign with you — Quick, private service

If you need a loan to meet an emergency — the Household Finance plan can probably help you. You can borrow $20 to $500 on your own signature if you can make regular monthly payments. You need no endorsers or guarantors — you get your loan on your own responsibility. And you may repay on the schedule which best fits your monthly income.

Choose your own payments

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will find, for instance, that monthly payments of $7.78 each will repay your loan in full in fifteen months. Or, if you wish to repay sooner, you may make twelve monthly payments of $9.46 each. When you borrow at Household Finance, you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. The payments shown in the table, when made on schedule, include all charges. You pay nothing more.

What you do to borrow

Simply tell us your needs. We require no salary or wage assignment, no bankable security. No credit questions are asked of your friends or relatives — and you don't have to ask friends, employer or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan on your own responsibility — without delay and without embarrassment.

Fair treatment

In a case of sickness or unemployment, while paying on a loan, Household shows the borrower every consideration. During the past seven years Household has made over 225,000 loans to Canadians amounting to over $38,000,000 and in not a single instance foreclosed a mortgage or garnished a wage check.

Find the amount you need in the first column of the table and choose the monthly payment which you can conveniently make. See how you can repay your loan on the schedule which best fits your monthly income. Then phone or visit us. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

Ernest Gammon, sub-inspector of the B.C. Police at Prince Rupert has been appointed a justice of the peace.

Lens Jardine was charged with entering a dwelling house by night with intent to commit theft, in City Police Court today. He was remanded in custody until tomorrow. He is charged with entering a cabin at 615 Gorge Road on September 14.

The weekly Gyro Club luncheon was held today in Terry's dining room, informal discussions between members taking the place of an address from a guest speaker. Cuthbert Holmes gave a brief account of the sights witnessed on his recent trip to Jasper. Louis Glazan was in the chair.

A total of $85 was collected in traffic fines this morning in City Police Court. Fifteen motorists were fined $2.50 each on over-parking and eight parking charges, three $10 each for speeding, one $5 for not having a driver's license, and another $15 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

The meeting of St. Andrew's and Caledonia Society Thursday night in the A.O.F. Hall was followed by a dance. During intermissions a program arranged by Miss Gwen Dewar was presented. Joan Helen Auchincloss and Georgina Moore danced an Irish jig, accompanied by Piper Andrew Pollock.

Associated Scottish Societies of the city staged a concert in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last week which featured Highland dances and songs. Proceeds from the entertainment were added to the Scottish war fund. A large audience applauded an interesting program.

Soldier's Body Found

The body of Louis Germain of the 1st Fusiliers, stationed at the Recruit Training Depot at Esquimalt, was found hanging from the rafters of a boathouse on Dallas Road beach, at the foot of Cook Street, yesterday.

The body was found by J. D. Smith, R.C.N., 1420 Camosun Street. It is believed it had been there several days.

An inquest will be held tomorrow morning at 10.30 at Sands Funeral Chapel with Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presiding.

Germain, it was learned, had been given two days' leave to go to New Westminster. His regimental number was K67888. He was between 30 and 35 years of age.

New Appeal Court Justice Welcomed

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, elevated from the Supreme Court of Appeal two weeks ago, was publicly welcomed to his new post by Hon. M. A. Macdonald, Chief Justice, and congratulated by members of the bar today.

Entering court first to take his seat on the extreme left of the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald received congratulations of striking sincerity and leavened his reply with a touch of dry Scottish humor.

Speaking personally to members of the bar who had addressed him, the new justice expressed his appreciation of their kind welcome. Time alone, he said, would tell how the experiment of appointing a Supreme Court justice to the Court of Appeal would work.

In humorous vein he repeated a story on appointments to high judicial posts in Scotland stating the real plums were those appointments over which the Lord Advocate had jurisdiction. That gentleman, he related, with true Scottish wisdom, usually appointed himself.

Mr. Justice McDonald told the bar he had received the warmest and most brotherly welcome from each member of the court and was certain continued harmony could be expected in its work.

ASKS FAVOR

From the bar he asked one more favor. "If you find me talking too much or interrupting too frequently, come to me privately and check me up," he said.

The Chief Justice voiced a public welcome from himself and his court to the new member. He added words of appreciation for the acquisition by the court of an appreciation of the manner in which a new member with the experience enjoyed by Mr. Justice McDonald in trial courts.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., as treasurer of the Law Society of British Columbia, asked the indulgence of the court to extend to Mr. Justice McDonald the congratulations of the Benchers.

"Your elevation is indeed one well merited," he said, addressing the new member. It disclosed an appreciation of the manner in which he had fulfilled the duties of a judge in the Supreme Court with a courtesy that upheld the best traditions of the bench.

Mr. Moresby, a veteran member of the Benchers, referred to his happy associations with Mr. Justice McDonald when the latter was a Benchers from 1920 to 1923, stating his wise counsel had been of exceptional benefit to the Law Society. He wished the new justice long life to serve in the Court of Appeal, and extended personal good wishes to him and his family.

FITTING HONOR

Speaking for the Victoria Bar, Harry J. Davis declared the elevation a fitting honor to have been bestowed on His Lordship after his faithful and valuable service on the bench of the Supreme Court.

"It is, moreover, very gratifying to the bar and I am sure to the general public also to know that the benefits of your long and valuable experience in the administration of justice in British Columbia will be available in the discharge of Your Lordship's duties in this, our highest court," he added.

Alfred Bull, K.C., speaking for the Vancouver Bar, associated himself with the words of previous speakers and stated the court was to be congratulated on securing a man of Mr. Justice McDonald's experience.

Harry W. Colgan, representing the junior members of the bar of Vancouver, voiced appreciation for the tuition which the junior bar had received in the court over which the new appointee had presided and expressed gratification they could look forward to further associations with him in the Court of Appeal.

Rev. Maurice for the junior members of the Victoria bar, added the congratulations of the younger men in the profession to those previously bestowed.

At the close of the ceremony the court proceeded with the appeal of Shou Yin Mar from a Supreme Court judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson dismissing the appellant's claim against the Royal Bank of Canada for certain funds. Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the appellant and Alfred Bull, K.C., assisted by D. M. Gordon, for the respondent.

EDWARD O. WESTON DIED SATURDAY

Edward O. Weston, a resident of Victoria since 1910 and well-known sergeant-at-arms to the Provincial Legislature for six years, passed away on Saturday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital after four months' illness.

LATE E. O. WESTON

eral services will be conducted by Rev. G. A. Reynolds at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon at 2, under the auspices of the Masonic Order.

Mr. Weston was born on January 1870, at London, Ontario, and went to Chicago as a young man, becoming associated with the International Harvester Co. for many years. Since coming to Victoria in 1910 he had been in the real estate business for many years, and was also interested in timber lands and mining development, traveling extensively through British Columbia and Alaska in these interests. He had also been local agent for the Canadian Geographic Journal since its first publication.

A loyal supporter of the Liberal party, Mr. Weston had many friends in public as well as private life in the province who will learn of his death with regret. He leaves his widow, at the family residence, 1929 Ash Street; two daughters, Mrs. W. S. Nason and Mrs. E. A. Sandahl, and three grandchildren, all of this city; also one brother, W. H. Weston, London, Ont., and two sisters, Mrs. M. M. Nesbitt, Woodstock, Ont., and Mrs. G. E. Woodward of Grand Rapids, Mich., and several nieces and nephews in Canada and the United States. His only son, Leonard S. Weston, predeceased him in 1936.

Mr. Weston was a charter member and past master of Camosun Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

HOUSE THIEF TAKES NOTHING BUT CAKE

Several homes in Greater Victoria were broken into over the week-end, in one instance two prowlers being caught in the act and forced to flee.

Last night at 7.45, R. S. Mabey, 1003 Amphion Street, told city police that he was in his "den" at the back of the house when he heard something fall in the front room.

He went to investigate and saw two men run out the front door which had been left unlocked. Mr. Mabey said the men jumped into a car and drove away. Nothing was found missing.

In Oak Bay yesterday a prowler with a sweet tooth broke into a home, ate a few pieces of fruitcake in the pantry and departed. This happened at the home of T. Ross, 1026 Oliver Street. It is believed entrance was gained by a passkey that fitted the front door or by a side window. Nothing other than the fruitcake was found missing. The occurrence between noon and 8 last night.

Lieut. L. S. Henderson, 915 Moss Street, informed police Saturday that a burglar had entered his home and stolen $30.

Victoria police were called to lower Johnson Street last Saturday where a Nanaimo man complained that he had been robbed by a gypsy. The visitor said he had been enticed inside a building by a gypsy woman and once inside she put her hand in his pocket and stole his money. He said he managed to get $3 out of her hand, but he was still short $20. The constable, gypsy and complainant started for the station, but were overtaken by the woman's husband who paid the Nanaimo man the $20.

B. W. Meakin, Sussex Apartments, told city police that sometime since 7 last night, while his auto was parked in front of 1968 Fairfield Road, a flashlight, R.C. A.F. cap badge and keys of his car were stolen.

Tonight at 8 in the Campbell Building, E. E. Richards will speak on the subject "The Egyptian Doomed? What of the Canal?" in which he will deal with the shift of the way to the Mediterranean, Red Sea and Africa from the political and prophetic standpoint. Lantern slides will be shown.

HEINTZMAN

PIANO today isn't just an important piece of furniture for the living-room (although the new, small instruments fit harmoniously into any living-room ensemble), nor is it essentially provided for the young to learn the rudiments of music. A piano's principal charm is for the self-expression of the teen-age boys and girls who want to play the music they want when they want it. It is for the person of mature years who delights in playing for his or her pleasure and enjoyment. As exclusive Heintzman & Co. representatives for Vancouver Island, we offer you a choice of the very latest models of this famous instrument. Prices from $495, on terms to suit your convenience.

McGeer Elected, House Date Set

Back from an airplane trip to Prince Rupert and the Queen Charlotte Islands and naturally pleased with the results of the Mackenzie by-election, which gives Manfred McGeer, Liberal, a seat in the provincial Legislature, Premier Pattullo this morning advised Lieutenant-Governor Hamber to call B.C.'s Parliament for its annual session October 29.

Final returns from Mackenzie had not been received this morning, but there is no doubt of McGeer's election, which left C. Grant MacNeil, C.C.F. candidate, 500 votes behind. With 26 of 46 polls reported, Mr. McGeer, a younger brother of G. G. McGeer, M.P., had 2,185 votes and Mr. MacNeil, who was defeated in North Vancouver in the March federal election, had a total of 1,730. The remaining 20 polls have around 1,000 votes, but election officials expected less than 500 votes would be cast and said they would not affect the final outcome. The Conservatives did not contest the by-election, made necessary by the death in May of J. M. Bryan, Liberal.

WEEK OR 10 DAYS

Final figures will not be available for a week or 10 days. Many of the polls are located on isolated islands, in fishing villages and logging centres. Largest centres in the constituency are Ocean Falls and Powell River. Mr. McGeer will probably serve only one term in the Legislature before a general election sometime next year. Last general B.C. election was June 1, 1937. The by-election leaves the Legislature standing unchanged with 31 Liberals, eight Conservatives, seven C.C.F., one Independent and one Labor in the 48-member House. The Premier returned Saturday afternoon by a plane from the north. He spoke twice on Mackenzie election platforms and then visited his constituents in Prince Rupert and the Queen Charlottes. "Prince Rupert hasn't been as prosperous for years and the islands are exceptionally busy," Mr. Pattullo said.

Visitors to the Provincial Museum were fewer this year than last. A total of 32,726 persons registered from May 1 to August 31 this year compared with 39,215 persons for the same period last year. Busiest month was July, when 12,123 persons registered.

C. H. French, 73, Fur Chief, Dies

LATE C. H. FRENCH

Charles H. French, 73, who rose in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company from dog driver to chief factor and fur trade commissioner, with jurisdiction over the entire Dominion, died last night at the Jubilee Hospital after an illness of nearly a year.

A man of many interests and benefactions, Mr. French lived in Victoria some time before leaving for Winnipeg to end his career with the company. He returned here nearly 10 years ago to live in retirement. During his leisure years he was active in many clubs and charitable organiza- tions, and his passing will be keenly felt by many in all walks of life.

Born in Markham, now a suburb of Toronto, July 23, 1867, Mr. French for a time was a journeyman in the painting trade. Then he studied the baking business and worked on C.P.R. construction. At Fort Garry, now Winnipeg, in 1886 he joined the H.B.C. as a dog driver, visiting the fur farms by sled.

HERE IN 1894

In 1894 he was sent to British Columbia. He arrived in Victoria and took the old Ss. Bowcowitz from this port to Port Simpson, going into the northern interior to isolated posts and general stores. In 1896 he was made manager at Babine Post.

In 1902 Mr. French was promoted to the position of purchasing agent at Victoria, and in 1914 was made district manager for British Columbia. In 1921 he went to Vancouver and remained there until 1927, when he was made chief factor and fur trade commissioner, with headquarters at Winnipeg. Just before he retired, after 44 years with the company, he was awarded the H.B.C. gold medal and gold bar for long and faithful service.

While retired the last 10 years, Mr. French was not inactive. He developed his fine gardens at his home, 182 Gorge Road West, and two and three times a week attended club meetings. He was past president of the Rotary Club, for which organization he did splendid work. He was also president of the Automobile Club, and worked as well with the Chamber of Commerce, the Queen Alexandra Solarium directors, the Bruce-Huron Old Boys' Association, the Children's Aid Society, the Beaver Club and the B.C. Historical Association. Well versed on western Canadian history and an authority on Indian life, he was in frequent demand as a public speaker.

He leaves a widow and three daughters, Miss Olive French, at the family residence; Mrs. A. J. Saunders, Burnside Road, and Mrs. I. M. Mackinnon, Maplewood Road; two sons, Capt. C. M. French, Vancouver, and Leonard D. French, Montreal, and seven grandchildren.

The remains are at the Sands Mortuary, where they will remain until 1.50 Wednesday afternoon. Services will be held in First United Church at 2. Burial will be at Royal Oak.

'Wings of Youth' Is Splendid Film

Continuing the series of "Canada Carries On" pictures, illustrating the work of the Dominion in supplying men and materials for the prosecution of the war, the National Film Board of Canada is showing the sixth one-reel film at the Capitol Theatre. The picture aroused much interest among those who attended the Capitol on Saturday. It will be shown for the next few days.

Named "Wings of Youth," the picture deals with the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, starting first with a few scenes of the first Great War, when Canada supplied one out of every three flyers in the war. It illustrates the important part the former aces played in the development of the north country by air.

Proceeding into the present era, "Wings of Youth" ably presents the intricacies of training men for the important task of pilots, gunners, observers, mechanics, and the myriad other vital jobs in wartime flying. It tells how it takes 20 men to keep one pilot in the air.

Picture scenes from the various training centres, from the Atlantic to the Pacific in Canada, in Australia and in New Zealand. The film shows scenes of gunners with their machine guns blasting targets, bombers dropping their sticks of destruction, and pilots manoeuvring in formation. The film concludes with the proudest day in the life of the cadet, when he gets his wings from the hands of the most famous Canadian ace, Air Marshal W. A. "Billy" Bishop.

In accordance with the schedule outlined by the Film Board, another of the series of "Canada Carries On" will be shown here in three weeks.

Jacques Gringonneur, court painter to King Charles VI of France, designed our modern pack of playing cards. He modified the old style of cards known as Taris. On completion of the job he went insane.

TRIO OF STARS IN 'TORRID ZONE'

Probably the fastest, funniest comedy-drama that Hollywood has given out with this year is "Torrid Zone." Triple-starred with James Cagney, Ann Sheridan and Pat O'Brien, the picture is at the Atlas Theatre.

Whether Cagney is making love to Miss Sheridan, or fighting with O'Brien, he is indomitable. As for Miss Sheridan, she is exuberantly lovely whether she is cheating the natives at cards, or singing the tuneful new song "Mi Cabellero."

'PRIMROSE PATH' POIGNANT FILM

The romance of a lonely girl who is too ashamed of her disreputable family to let her sweetheart know the truth about them, is the basis of "Primrose Path," starring Ginger Rogers and Joel McCrea, and now being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre.

In addition to Miss Rogers and McCrea, the cast includes Marjorie Rambeau, Henry Travers, Miles Mander, Queenie Vassar and little Joan Carol. Gregory La Cava directed and produced for RKO Radio.

'You're Not So Tough' Featured Tomorrow

Eight of the screen's toughest youngsters will be seen in prominent and featured roles of Universal's "You're Not So Tough," which comes tomorrow to the Dominion Theatre.

The eight are Billy Halop, Huntz Hall, Gabriel Dell, Bernard Punsky, Bobby Jordan, Harris Berger, David Gorcey and Hally Chester, all of whom have appeared in the play, "Dead End." In "You're Not So Tough," the boys will be seen as crop-workers following the harvests up and down the state.

Others in the cast are Nan Grey, Henry Armetta and Rosina Galli.

'IT'S IN THE AIR' STILL PLAYING

"It's in the Air," George Formby's latest Ealing production, which is now at the Plaza Theatre, is a spectacular aerial extravaganza, telling of a youth's hectic adventures and misadventures as a dispatch rider in the Royal Air Force.

SONJA HENIE IN DIFFERENT ROLE

"Everything Happens at Night," 20th Century-Fox film now showing at the Rio Theatre, is a completely different type of picture for Sonja Henie. The famed skating star is presented in a combined dramatic and comedy role. Of course there are sequences in which Sonja sports not only on skates but on the shimmering ski slides of the Alps. Although Sonja's role is essentially dramatic, light comedy touches are injected when Ray Milland and Robert Cummings, two rival newspaper reporters, fall for her and fight.

'REBECCA' BASED ON POPULAR NOVEL

Based on the popular, best-selling Daphne du Maurier novel, David O. Selznick's production of "Rebecca" will be shown at the Cadet Theatre today through United Artists release. Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine appear in the principal starring roles, while the featured cast includes Reginald Denny, Judith Anderson, George Sanders, C. Aubrey Smith, Gladys Cooper, Florence Bates and Nigel Bruce.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Two of "Our Gang" are mischief makers, Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer and Michael Gubitosi, graduate to feature roles in "I Love You Again," co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy at the Capitol Theatre. "I Love You Again" is an amusing, fast-moving comedy dealing with the plight of a man who recovers suddenly from an attack of amnesia and fails to recognize the pious personality he has become.

Republic of Colombia Is Larger Than Ontario

Many persons have said that the copiers of the New World should have been named in honor of Christopher Columbus. If that had been the case, our continent—no doubt would be called "North Columbia."

Indians of Colombia in odd costume. The one at the right is dressed as an "evil ghost."

Instead of that name, we have North America, along with South America. A friend of Columbus, Americus Vesputius, is the only man for whom a continent ever was named.

Yet Columbus has been honored in the names of several important places. Canada has British Columbia and the United States has the District of Columbia. The state of Ohio has Columbus as its capital city. In South America there is a large country called Colombia.

In the second syllable of that name an "o" is used instead of a "u." This is not a mistake. An old form of the name Colombia is "Colomb," and another form is "Colombo."

Some idea of the size of Colombia may be gained from this fact: It is large enough to hold the Canadian province of Ontario, with Ireland put in for good measure.

The two American states with greatest area are Texas and California. Both of them might be placed inside Colombia, and there would be space left over.

Colombia is in the northwestern corner of South America. It is cut by the equator.

We might expect the climate to be very hot, and that is true of the low parts. There are mountains, however, and people who live on them find coolness in the heart of the torrid zone.

Bogota, the capital, is on a high mountain. The city is more than a mile and a half above sea level, and its residents say they have a climate of "everlasting spring."

Like other Latin American countries, Colombia has a population made up partly of Indians. Only about one-fifth of the people are whites. The rest are Indians or negroes, or of mixed Spanish and Indian descent.

Among the Indians are some who still carry on their old ways of wild life. They live in forests and jungles which are far from cities founded by Spanish settlers.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, September 24

Adverse planetary aspects are strong today. It is threatening to armies and navies and bodes ill for carelessness in preparations for national defense, which should be speeded under this configuration.

Practical tasks should occupy women at this time. Bridge should give way to whatever assures thrift in preparing for winter needs. Again sewing and knitting will engage attention for family uses as well as for foreign needs. Aid to children will be imperative and preparations for the winter will offer work for all who recognize duty. Danger from diseases imported from foreign countries is prognosticated.

Speculation in every form should be avoided, although there will be tempting opportunities. The stock market will fluctuate greatly. Sabotage will be discovered where most determined vigilance has been exercised. The stars that stimulate treachery, deceit and doubledealing will be potent in influence.

Changes of loyalties are again indicated among European nations. While Hitler has apparent power over conquered peoples, the seeds of revolt will be widely rooted. In the horoscope of King Leopold are the evil influences that astrologers believe are responsible for the surrender of the Belgian ruler, who has been subject to cross directions which foreshadow continued unfortunate experiences.

Persons whose birthdate it has the augury of a year of great activity. Prosperity and domestic happiness are indicated. Children born on this day probably will be quick in mental processes, ambitious and idealistic. They may be liable to emotional extremes.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: Rock doves, unlike clay pigeons, are real birds. They haunt the rocky coasts of Europe, and are the parent stock of our domestic pigeons.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We have been happily married for 20 years, but for the last year my husband has taken to fishing and I have heard so many tales about fishing trips and how they were allis for men taking to philandering that I just don't know what to do. I am very miserable. He is good to his family and provides for them well. He stays at home during the winter. But in the summer he would go fishing every day if he could afford it. Do you think I am doing wrong in opposing his going fishing with a lot of men?

ANSWER: Lady, if you've got a husband whose only vice is fishing, you are playing in all sorts of luck. Why, that is the most innocuous and harmless diversion in which a man can engage, and you don't need to worry about their being any women in it.

Men never take women on fishing parties if they can help themselves, and a true fisherman would drown a platinum blonde if she joggled his line or he had to bait a hook for her. All those tales about mermaids are pure fiction.

And think of this: When a man gets to middle age he gets sort of fed up with domesticity and he becomes restless. He feels that he has worked hard and done his duty by his family and that he is entitled to a little fling of his own. And if his wife has any sense at all she senses this mood and encourages him to go fishing or hunting, or take up any other innocent sport. That way her safety lies.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—What is the minimum salary that two people should get married on? What percentage of income should go for rent, food and to lay up for a rainy day? W. R.

ANSWER: No hard and fixed rules can be laid down for the minimum on which a young couple could dare marriage because it depends upon the cost of living in different localities, and the way in which the boy and girl have been accustomed to live. Any bank will give you a carefully worked out budget.

DOROTHY DIX.

PLANES COLLIDE, MANITOBA KILLED

BRIGHTON, Ont. (CP)—One member of the Royal Canadian Air Force was killed and three others escaped injury near here when two training planes from nearby Trenton, training centre, collided in midair.

One plane crashed, killing Air-craftman A. E. Porter of Morris, Man., while the pilot, Flying Officer C. C. Moran of Trenton, parachuted to safety. The other plane, manned by Flying Officer George Hill of Pictou, N.S., and Leading Aircraftman H. M. Sharpe of Deseronto, Ont., made a successful forced landing.

A.C. Porter apparently was injured when the planes collided and was not able to bail out.

Although F.O. Moran suffered injuries, including rib fractures, in his parachute jump, he ran quickly to the crashed plane and lifted the tail to assist in the removal of his mechanic's body.

Alexander Johnson, resident across the road from the field where the plane crashed, said he went to assist Moran from the parachute.

Three planes were flying in formation when the collision occurred. The rudder assembly was struck off Moran's plane by the impact in midair and the propeller of Hill's machine was damaged.

NOYES DENIES SLAM AT CANADIAN POETS

OTTAWA (CP)—Alfred Noyes, English poet, here on a lecture tour, asked about Canadian poets, said he was slightly wroth at the widely-bruited suggestion that he had made unkindly comment concerning them. He said he admired and read with interest Canadian poetry, particularly that of Lampman, Scott, Drummond and a dozen others.

He did not think there was any good war poetry coming up. The kind of war that produced good poetry, he said, ended in 1918. This current war was merely an attempt to rid the world of organized crime and bestiality. Homer wrote about fights between men with good clean weapons. He never described machine-gunning little children, dropping bombs on open cities and firing on boats that were picking up their own men out of the water.

In this kind of war, an "attempt by G-men to clean up a bunch of gangsters," it was impossible to find inspiration for the poetry of chivalry. "No one can think of things like that," he said.

As to whether the war presaged vast changes in the way of life he said he hoped there would be a change.

"Before the war," he said, "we were going distinctly down hill. One of the troubles in Europe was the breakdown in international ethics. A great many intellectuals had more or less regarded themselves as superior to ethical conduct. Ethics were considered as superannuated and there is a connection between that and our friend Hitler."

JAPAN ASKS RELEASE OF 6

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese foreign office announced today it has directed its consul-general in Singapore to lodge a strong protest against the arrest there of six Japanese and to demand their release at once.

The foreign office said one of those arrested by British colonial authorities was a member of the staff of the Japanese consulate at Singapore, and that the consulate safe had been sealed.

The Singapore authorities were said to have sealed the safe after the consulate staff had refused to turn over certain "secret documents."

Charges against those held were not disclosed here. Two Japanese girls, one employed in a Singapore bank and the other an employee of a foreign trade association, were said to be among those held.

Domei, Japanese news agency, said the British action was a "national affront" and connected the incident with current reports that the British may grant the United States fleet facilities there for a naval base.

Citizen Soldiers Parade Smartly

Thousands of citizens lined the downtown streets yesterday afternoon and were treated to a smart show by men of the non-permanent force, when Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, O.C. Military District No. 11, took the salute at the Causeway.

Taking part in the parade was the full force of the 3rd Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, numbering 599 officers and men, and 400 men of the 2nd Battalion, Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver Regiment).

The majority of those in the parade broke camp at Heale's Range yesterday morning and the town show was the final phase of two weeks of intensive training in the rudiments of army life.

Marching to brisk march numbers like "Col. Bogey" provided by the 2nd Battalion pipe band and the Irishmen's band, the men looked exceedingly smart on the march, despite the fact they had had only a brief period of training. The crowds along the route of the march from the Bay Street Armouries to Parliament Square—showed their admiration by rounds of applause.

This was the first time the 3rd Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment had paraded at full strength. With Lieut.-Col. Brooke Stephenson, O.C. 3rd Battalion, in command, the Scots led the parade, followed by the Irish, of which Lieut.-Col. K. McLennan is the O.C.

The route of the march was along Douglas Street to Yates Street to Government Street to the Parliament Buildings. At the reviewing point just opposite the

Let Your Son be a Credit to His Father

Set your mind at ease
—secure his education
the Imperial Life way

WHEN he is ready to plunge into the hurly-burly of competitive business or professional life, you may not be here. But even now, through Imperial Life, you can make certain that whatever happens, your son will be equipped to be a credit to you—educated to compete. And never has education been more essential to success.

You, alone, can decide whether your son's education will be haphazard and incomplete, or systematic and thorough. Many provident fathers, remembering the handicaps they had to overcome, have made certain that their children will have every advantage that education can give them, by taking out an Imperial Child's Thrift Policy. This provides that a sum of money, the amount you decide upon, will be paid your son at a given date.

The Imperial Child's Thrift Policy has this striking advantage—should you pass away prematurely the Imperial Life will pay the premiums until the child is 21 and able to continue the payments if any are still due. See an Imperial Life representative at your first convenience.

$1000 for Norman J.
when he is 21

When the "unexpected happened" Norman J. was little more than a baby. With some other insurance, his father left an Imperial Life Child's Thrift Policy. Under its terms the Imperial Life will pay all premiums until Norman is 21. Then he will receive $1000—enough to give him a head start in life.

Norman's need will be all the greater because his father will not be here to guide him. Why not provide an Imperial Life Child's Thrift Policy for your boy—or girl?

Cardinal Villeneuve Sees Hope for World

NICOLET, Que. (CP)—There would be reason to fear for the future of "civilization as we know it," were it not for the growth of an "intellectual elite" studying and seeking a remedy for pressing social problems, Rodrigue, Cardinal Villeneuve said here Saturday night.

"There are rumblings in our society—cataclysms are in the making," the Roman Catholic primate told the annual meeting of "Les Semaines Sociales du Canada," French-Canadian social study group.

Declaring there was need for social reorganization and the restoration of society on "Christian principles," the Cardinal voiced approval of a lecture on the corporate movement given during the meeting by Maximilien Caron, University of Montreal law professor.

Professor Caron explained various cooperative theories, ranging from the idea of the corporate state at one extreme to a scheme for socially-inspired professional and industrial corporations at the other. The Cardinal saw a similarity between the latter form and the co-operative idea.

Cardinal Villeneuve remarked that the corporate idea in the form in which it might be applicable under a constitutional government had been recommended by Pope Pius XI in an encyclical. It was not the corporate idea of a Hitler or a Mussolini, he said.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning—Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A merehead movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you wake up and go. Washdown and get your bile flowing freely. They do the work of colonial but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. See.

"We'll Call Jones in Calgary & ask Him"

These men wanted information in a hurry from a man in Calgary—facts upon which an important business deal hinged. There was no time to wait for an exchange of letters, so they called by long-distance telephone. In a moment the Calgary man was on the line. Questions were asked and answered in one short conversation. Again the long-distance telephone had saved the day.

'Esquimalt House' for Services

Feeling a definite need for a community centre in the Esquimalt district which would serve not only the men of the services, but their wives, the Presbyterian Church in Canada has secured a large suitable house at 1280 Park Terrace, shown above, which has been redecorated and furnished and is now ready for use.

It will be known as "Esquimalt House," and will be available to wives of the men in the active service forces in the afternoons for social fellowship, and open to soldiers, sailors and airmen as a reading and recreational centre in the evenings.

An informal opening will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3, to which wives of the men are invited. In the evening new arrivals at the Naval Barracks will be entertained. A short musical program and social gathering will be offered both afternoon and evening.

The success of this undertaking is due to the sympathetic interest of the various churches of the community; the Y.W.C.A. and a great many individuals, who not only have contributed to the furnishings of the house but have also pledged their financial support.

Miss Ruby Blyth, deaconess, has been loaned by the Toronto board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to supervise Esquimalt House.

Mrs. A. A. McKinnon was convener of the furnishings committee, Mrs. J. P. Dempsey of the decorating committee, and Mrs. W. Sanders has acted as secretary treasurer, and much credit for the establishment of the house is due to these women and their committees. The house is furnished to suit immediate requirements.

During the winter months there will be concerts and entertainments for the men and their wives and social work programs of interest to the women who meet in the afternoon.
